LBJ In Surprise Viet Visit; Carrier Explosion Kills 43

16 Others Injured On Fiery Oriskany

SAIGON (UPI)—A searing fire touched off by an explosion in photo flares raged through five decks of the attack carrier Oriskany off the coast of North Viet Nam today, killing 43 men and injuring 16 others.

Some of the men were trapped below decks and died in their bunks. It was the worst naval tragedy of the Viet Nam war.

Firemen, damage control and demolition experts ignored their own safety and darted into thick choking smoke and flames so hot it melted steel girders to drag out bombs, rockets and planes.

Other sailors wheeled fighter bombers out of danger and still others dove into a nearby officers' quarters and dragged out pilots overcome by heat and smoke.

They were too late for some of the other fliers who had flown through enemy fire over North Viet Nam just a few hours before and died in bed.

The fires were fed by magnesium, the chemical used to make photo flares. It burns with a searing heat and is extremely difficult to extinguish.

Two helicopters were destroyed and a number of A4E Skyhawks, the swift jets that strike Communist targets in North Viet Nam daily, were damaged.

GULF OF TONKIN

The Oriskany was operating in the Gulf of Tonkin off the North Viet Nam coast with the carriers Constellation and Franklin D. Roosevelt when the tragedy struck at 7:28 a.m. (4:28 p.m. yesterday PDI).

The other two carriers sent helicopters with help, but continued their strikes against North Viet Nam.

A military spokesman said the fire broke out in a forward hangar bay where the photo flares were stored. Within minutes flames and suffocating smoke boiled through the forward interior of the huge, 42,600-ton ship.

"Many officers were trapped in their rooms by flash fires with several brought to safety only through timely and courageous action of search personnel," the spokesman said.

FIVE DECKS

The flames spread over five decks of the ship. Steel plates turned from dirty gray to glowing red—hot enough to sizzle the soles of men's shoes.

The fire wrecked the forward officer's quarters, catapult areas, forward elevator and burned out dozens of electrical circuits.

The Oriskany, now on its second tour in Viet Nam waters, probably will sail to Subic Bay in the Philippines for repairs.

An official investigation to the cause of the blaze was opened immediately, the Navy announced.

The carrier was built in 1945 at the Brooklyn Navy Yard and operates with about 70 planes and a crew of 3,500.

Security Very Tight For Secret Flight

CAM RANH BAY, Viet Nam (UPI)—President Johnson made a massively protected secret visit to Viet Nam today to talk to American troops and solemnly pledge to them "we shall never let you down nor your fighting comrades."

The President flew into the well protected Cam Ranh Bay supply base on the coast, utilizing a visit to Corregidor Island in the Philippines as a cover for the sudden flight. He spent two hours and 24 minutes with Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. commander in Viet Nam, and men at the base.

First, he surprised Westmoreland by conferring a Distinguished Service Medal on him. Then, from a platform, perspiring in the tropic heat, the President told the assembled troops:

"I just couldn't come to this part of the world and not come to see you.

"I give you this pledge. We shall never let you down nor your fighting comrades nor the 15 million of Viet Nam nor the hundreds of millions of Asians.

"One day the whole world will know that what you have done here was worth the price."

He visited hospitalized servicemen and toured the base in a jeep.

This scene of his historic visit was a huge air base and seaport built by American forces over the past year. The area is considered secure from Viet Cong attack although there has been combat only 20 miles away.

RANCH COSTUME

The President, wearing a tan twill zipper jacket, shirt and trousers which comprise his favorite Texas ranch costume, flew from Sangley Naval Air Station just west of Manila.

The commander in chief of the 325,000 U. S. forces fighting in Viet Nam was met by Westmoreland, South Viet Nam's Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu.

Johnson returned to Manila this evening. He will spend the night there and then resume his 25,000-mile Far Eastern tour, going to Thailand tomorrow.

EVENING CHOW

Johnson had evening chow in a non-commissioned officers mess and then conferred briefly with top officers of Westmoreland's command.

The weather was hot and humid. The heavily perspiring President shed his Western jacket early in his visit and his shirt was dark with moisture.

Ross Valley, Lucas Valley Freeway Proposals Opposed

The Marin County Planning Commission last night turned thumbs down on the proposed southern corridor for Highway 17 extension along Sir Francis Drake Boulevard through Greenbrae, Kentfield, Ross and San Anselmo.

The commission's unanimous action followed a lengthy report from its staff which described the corridor as "both extremely expensive and excessively disruptive of the communities through which it would pass."

Also "eliminated from further consideration" by the commission were the Lucas Valley Road and ridge corridor approaches from Highway 101, though large portions of both corridors further west were retained for study in combination with the approach through San Rafael.

The only routing off Highway 101 left intact for further study by the commission would take Highway 17 through San Rafael, and along the Miracle Mile.

A standing-room crowd of 150 persons, not one of whom spoke in favor of a freeway, jammed the commission's hearing room at the Civic Center for the hearing which lasted almost until midnight.

There was frequent applause when a speaker condemned freeways or whenever building a scenic highway as opposed to a freeway was proposed. Most of the opposition came from those concerned with the effect of Highway 17 on their own communities.

Mayor Peter R. Arigoni of Fairfax told the commission his city council was "opposed to any freeway through the city." Similar sentiments were voiced by residents of Sleepy Hollow and Sequoia Park, Nicasio and the San Geronimo Valley.

Richard L. Ocheltree presented a written statement of the Lucas Valley Freeway Study Committee, which, he said, contained 23 reasons for building the freeway elsewhere than through the valley.

C. F. Greene, deputy district engineer of the State Division of Highways, arose often to allay fears of the aesthetic effect of a freeway and to dispel frequently voiced suspicions that the freeway was being built primarily for the convenience of non-residents passing through Marin or en route to Point Reyes National Seashore.

Commissioner Niels Schultz Jr. told the audience that the county was thinking ahead 10 years and that "in the past 10 years traffic has doubled on the Miracle Mile and in San Anselmo and Ross." "It can't double again" on the existing roads, he said.

County Planning Director Paul Zucker said "the major proportion of traffic will still be local traffic."

Zucker urged that the cities of Fairfax, San Anselmo and San Rafael to take advantage of the freeway project to undertake redevelopment of the areas through which it would pass.

Zucker cited the Miracle Mile as an opportunity for such redevelopment. The planning staff, he said, favored routing the freeway on the north side of the Miracle Mile, which would take out most commercial buildings.

According to Zucker, these businesses could be relocated in the commercial sections of San Rafael, Fairfax and San Anselmo, to the benefit of the businesses and the communities.

The commission, while favoring the central corridor through San Rafael, left open for further study the exact routing. It did, however, drop from further consideration several sections of the

Bethlehem Reports Rise In Earnings

NEW YORK (AP) — Bethlehem Steel's report of the best third-quarter earnings in its history led to a strong rally and heavy trading on the New York Stock Exchange today. (See Finance, page 44.)

Bethlehem, the country's second largest steel maker, said net income for the past three months totalled $46,196,000, compared with $32,220,000 in the same quarter of 1965. It also reported net income for the first nine months of 1966 was the best since 1957.

U.S. Steel, the largest producer, reported yesterday its third quarter earnings dropped to $61,635,150, compared with more than $77 million in the second quarter and more than $71 million in the third quarter of 1965.

However, big steel increased its dividend for the first time in four years, and prices of steel stocks promptly rose on the market.

The Big Three auto makers all reported weakening sales in October, and General Motors reported its poorest third-quarter earnings in five years. Nevertheless, auto stocks stayed firm on the market.

Number of industries reported higher earnings. One of today's notables was American Tobacco Co. It had third quarter earnings of $24,091,000 against $23,143,000 in the third quarter of 1965.

Supervisors Rescind Gallinas Park Money

By RICHARD LYTTLE

Marin County Supervisors yesterday by 3-1 vote rescinded last week's $10,000 donation to the Gallinas Community Services District toward a district park project.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen dissented heatedly. Supervisor Byron W. Leydecker, who spearheaded the action last week, was absent due to illness.

The vote to rescind was on the insistance of Supervisor Peter H. Behr, who was on vacation when the board voted 4-0 in favor of the donation.

Also prompting the vote yesterday was a heated letter from an irate Gibbs H. Lawson, chairman of the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission.

The letter was passed out to supervisors, but not read. Kettenhofen charged that two sentences in the letter were "insulting" and asked that they be read, but Behr objected.

Due to the absence of Leydecker, the board was ready to continue the discussion two weeks, but County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said he needed some direction on dispursing the money to the Gallinas Village CSD. As it stood, he would have to make the payment.

Behr's main protest was that the matter had not first been considered by the county parks and recreation commission. He said that Lawson was not the only irate commissioner and a serious question of policy was involved.

Kettenhofen answered that the case was unusual, since the donation was one way of helping residents of the area who had been taxing themselves to cover earlier inadequancies in county engineering.

"If we go on this philosophy, there will be no end to it," Behr countered. "That would be

Sheppard Trial Has Tentative Full Jury

CLEVELAND (UPI) — The jury box was filled with temporary jurors in the Sheppard murder trial today amid strong indications by the defense that it would attempt to prove another person murdered Marilyn Sheppard.

Defense attorney F. Lee Bailey twice asked women who became temporary jurors whether they would accept circumstantial evidence pointing to someone other than Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard as the bludgeon-slayer of his pregnant first wife.

Viet News Hit By Blackout

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communications from Saigon were halted for 2 hours, 17 minutes tonight, apparently in an attempt to hold back news of President Johnson's visit to Viet Nam.

All news media reported that their communications failed at the same time.

Officials at the government communications center said at first there had been a power failure at the transmitting station and that attempts were being made to switch to an emergency power system.

Later, however, it was learned that there had been a government order to black out communications. They were restored about an hour after Johnson returned to Manila.

NATO Votes To Move Offices To Belgium

PARIS (AP) — The North Atlantic Treaty Organization voted today to shifts its political headquarters from Paris to Brussels, Belgium.

The decision — a unanimous one — was made by the 15 ambassadors on the NATO Council.

Valley Burning Cause Of Yesterday's Haze

People in the Sacramento Valley did a lot of controlled burning Monday and a gentle easterly wind carried their smoke to Marin overnight, causing the thick haze which settled over the county yesterday, according to the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District.

The actual smog reading for Marin yesterday was only .10, below the eye irritant level of .15, an office spokesman said.

Selassie In Berlin

BERLIN (UPI) — Ethiopian Emperor Haile Selassie, meeting with Billy Graham and 1,200 world churchmen near the Berlin Wall, called today for all-out Christian evangelistic effort and unity among churches.

Cavalrymen, Planes Rout Cong Company

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. air cavalrymen and supporting planes routed a company of Viet Cong in a two-hour battle on the coast 110 miles northeast of Saigon yesterday and reported 48 enemy killed and two captured.

Casualties among the cavalrymen were reported light, but a H13 observation helicopter was shot down during the engagement and its two crew members were wounded, a U.S. spokesman said.

A second helicopter — a troop transport — was knocked down by ground fire in another engagement. There were no casualties among the crew or troops aboard.

The helicopter losses brought to 218 the total downed in the war thus far, 215 of them in South Viet Nam. Losses of other U. S. planes reached 540 yesterday with disclosure of two not previously announced.

In the coastal fight northeast of Saigon, a company of the 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division tangled with an estimated 150 Viet Cong 16 miles northeast of Phan Thiet, capital of Binh Thuan Province. It was the first engagement reported in the region in recent months.

A U.S. spokesman said the Viet Cong fled after a two-hour fight. Air strikes were called in to hit the escape routes.

Air strikes against North Viet Nam again were sharply curtailed by bad weather yesterday, but U.S. Air Force pilots reported damaging a pier and destroying three barges near Dong Hoi.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Pike Demands Full Inquiry

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Episcopal Church—to the great embarrassment of nearly all its bishops—today was committed to a full formal inquiry into charges of heresy and "irresponsibility" against Bishop James A. Pike.

Bishop Pike

Pike himself demanded the investigation shortly before last midnight after the church's 139-member House of Bishops voted 103 to 36 to adopt a statement rejecting a heresy trial for him but sharply rebuking him for "irresponsible" attacks on traditional Christian doctrines.

The vote climaxed a stormy, hours-long session of the house, ruling body of the church, and prompted the 53-year-old retired bishop of San Francisco to demand the inquiry. He told his colleagues they had, in effect, "passed judgment on my conduct as a cleryman" without giving him adequate hearing.

In addition, he told UPI that the bishops, by accusing him of irresponsibility, had reflected on his personal integrity even more seriously than if they had decided to try him for heresy.

Democrats Upset Over LBJ 'Tape'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman John M. Bailey charges Republicans have employed "an enormous and despicable untruth" — an allegedly doctored recording of a speech by President Johnson — in their fall congressional campaigns.

Bailey's accusations came after the Fair Campaign Practices Committee disclosed the Republican Congressional Campaign Committee had asked GOP candidates not to use the tape recording.

NIXON BLAST

In Grand Rapids, Mich., Republican Richard M. Nixon accused Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., of undermining Johnson by his statements on Viet Nam. "It can only weaken our attempts to build a stronger united front," the former vice president told a news conference.

Bailey entered the flap over the allegedly edited tape recording by charging in a statement last night that the incident marks a new "low point in dirty campaign tactics."

He said Republicans "have been caught red-handed" in what he termed "the most flagrant example of deliberate distortion I have seen in all my years of political campaigning."

GOP CHALLENGE

Republicans, meanwhile, challenged the objectivity of Samuel J. Archibald, executive director of the Nonpartisan Campaign Practices Committee set up to police electioneering methods. Rep. Bob Wilson, R-Calif., said Archibald "is still on the pay roll of the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives."

Wilson also said the GOP group was informed Archibald had turned the questioned tape over to the Democratic Congressional Committee and had inspired newspaper stories about it. Archibald denied this.

SPEECH TAPE

The tape involved records part of a speech Johnson made in Des Moines, Iowa, June 30. Archibald said in a letter to Wilson that two portions were obscured, one by a superimposed voice of a Republican announcer, and the other by dubbed-in applause.

Elsewhere on the political front, Michigan Gov. George Romney indicated he doesn't care much for the theory that to be a leading contender for the 1968 Republican presidential nomination he will have to carry a senator and three congressmen to victory in the November election.

U.C. Campuses Draw Scholars

California State Scholarship winners electing to study at the University of California number 905 this fall, 50 per cent more than the 601 enrolled last fall.

More significantly, this fall's total represents 34 per cent of all new State Scholars, up from last fall's 30 per cent.

Largest numerical gain was at Berkeley, which rose 70, from 162 to 232; Santa Barbara was next, up 68, from 68 to 136. All general campuses increased in number of new State Scholars: Davis from 86 to 118; Irvine from 38 to 45; Los Angeles from 153 to 199; Riverside from 27 to 63; San Diego from 36 to 66; and Santa Cruz from 31 to 46.

FOR BOBBY

Yorty Says Brown Took His Key

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Robert F. Kennedy got his key to the city from the wrong man, complains Mayor Samuel W. Yorty.

"Gov. Brown," Yorty said yesterday, "was apparently so excited about Bobby's being in town that he offered him not only the key to the city but to the county and state as well."

The senator from New York was in California last weekend campaigning for Brown and other Democrats.

The mayor—who lost to Brown in the gubernatorial primary — said in a statement:

"Only the mayor has the right to officially offer the key to our city. It is our practice to reserve this honor for foreign dignitiaries and heads of state who are friendly toward our city.

"I don't think the senator is exactly qualified for this honor right now."

During his visit Kennedy referred briefly to his hot arguments with Yorty during a Senate hearing in August. Yorty and Kennedy both said they hold no grudge against the other.

Brown Before Students As GOP Foe Takes Relaxed Vote Tour

COMBINED AP & UPI

Gov. Edmund G. Brown took his third term campaign to Santa Barbara today for a speech to students at the University of California campus while his Republican foe Ronald Reagan rambled around Southern California in a relaxed style in quest of votes.

The U.C. visit was the only live appearance on the governor's schedule. The rest of the day was devoted to television. Brown was scheduled to tape a segment of the "today" show in Burbank, followed by production of paid political broadcasts in Santa Barbara and Fresno.

Brown planned to use increasing amounts of television time during the final two weeks of his re-election campaign.

The Democratic governor yesterday launched an experiment in campaign techniques, a no-holds-barred news conference to be presented on television as a paid political broadcast.

The governor dared Reagan to hold similar ones.

The Republican nominee had a light schedule—taping of a television show for future release at NBC studios in Burbank; a speech before a Joint Service clubs meeting in Glendale Civic Auditorium with box lunches; and an evening rally at the American Legion stadium in El Monte.

Friday he will step up the tempo of his campaign by flying to San Francisco and speaking at a Commonwealth Club luncheon in the home territory of his Democratic foe, Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Yesterday he hit hard at the Democrats and Brown at a crowded rally in Santa Monica, charging the Democrates "are going to resort to an unprecedented smear."

Reagan's aides also disclosed they plan to "step up our efforts" to help his running mate, Robert Finch, the Republican candidate for lieutenant governor, who is running behind incumbent Lt. Gov. Glen Anderson.

Elsewhere Anderson had added his voice today to the chorus of complaints about rising prices.

But unlike housewives picketing against food costs, Democrat Anderson made a one-man stand in protest of the high cost of politicking.

Anderson said yesterday in San Francisco that Democratic Gov. Brown and Republican challenger Ronald Reagan will spend more than $4 million in their campaigns, more than the cost of a Presidential election 25 years ago.

As Anderson spoke, U.S. Sen. George Murphy, R - Calif., and Finch opened a three-day tour of the state that the senator said was aimed at "flushing Anderson out of hiding."

Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh, D - Inglewood, whose presence has been noticeably absent during the campaign, came out today for Prop. 3 on the Nov. 8 ballot.

And Los Angeles Mayor Samuel Yorty, whose endorsement is coveted by both Brown and Reagan, chided the governor for presenting a key to Los Angeles last week to visiting U. S. Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Irregular rows of rice fields near Chico make an interesting pattern for the viewer more accustomed to seeing the flat, water-covered fields only from ground level. In Central Valley fields like these is grown one-fourth of the U.S. annual rice production, worth about $78 million last year. (AP Wirephoto)

Johnson Pays Surprise Visit To Viet Nam

land's staff officers in the game room of an officers' club where the slot machines were hooded and the bar closed. Johnson commended the forces of the United States for the manner in which they are performing against Communist aggressors.

Wishing officers of the Army, Marine Corps, Air Force and Navy success and an early return to their homes, the President said:

"Come home with a coonskin on the wall."

Thieu and Ky participated in the Presidential visit only briefly, sitting on an improvised platform as Johnson spoke to about 900 men of the mixed honor guard and about 7,000 troops surrounding the area as spectators.

Johnson's trip to Viet Nam, as part of his six-nation tour of the Far East, was so much speculation until he acted swiftly today and with no advance notice.

He was visiting Corregidor when suddenly he said, "It's time go to." He kissed Mrs. Johnson goodbye and left for a helicopter on the first leg of the journey to Viet Nam.

It was the first visit by an American President in office since President Roosevelt visited Casablanca during World War II. President Eisenhower went to Korea in 1952 after his election but before he was inaugurated.

Johnson had discussed coming to Viet Nam last night with Westmoreland after the windup of the Pacific summit conference.

The President had spent the morning in Manila visiting American and Philippine World War II cemeteries, an experimental station producing new strains of disease and insect-repelling rice, and then the famous island of Corregidor, moving from place to place by helicopter.

From Corregidor, his announced schedule called for a stop at the U.S. Embassy in Manila where he was to speak to the staff and meet members of the American community. Instead the President boarded his big silver and blue jet, Air Force One.

White House Press Secretary Bill D. Moyers had taken a press party out of Manila ahead of the President. A small four photographers travelled aboard the President's plane.

It was nearly dusk under an overcast sky as Air Force One came in high over Cam Rahn Bay, then let down to a fast landing on a 10,000 foot strip. High overhead fighters kept watch for any possible enemy intrusion.

Swim Club Meets Pool Fund Crisis

The crisis of a balloon loan payment of $18,500 due on Dec. 31 was resolved last night in a special membership meeting of the Strawberry Swim Club.

More than 100 members at the meeting in Strawberry Point School voted for an assessment of up to $150 each for the 161 members to raise the money.

The loan payment is the final one to the Strawberry Recreation District, which took out a $30,000 loan with Bank of America to help finance the $64,000 pool in 1962.

Swim club members were afraid the recreation district would exercise a 60-day takeover option on the pool if they could not raise the $18,500 by the deadline, according to club president Don Fraser.

Fraser said there is some public use of the pool. The recreation district uses it in the summer half a day for Red Cross swimming instruction program.

According to the lease agreement with the recreation district, the pool will revert to the district after 20 years, Fraser said.

Tampered Fuel

NEW DELHI (AP)—Law enforcement officials carried out a large-scale raid on service stations throughout New Delhi, collecting samples of kerosene. Later they announced 80 per cent of the samples showed adulterated fuel and said prosecution would begin.

ROUTE

corridor as far as Fairfax. These were a portion running south of Albert Park in San Rafael, and two others in lower central San Anselmo and lower central Fairfax.

Left for further study was the departure of the route from the Miracle Mile, whence it could either continue the proposed central corridor through Fairfax and the San Geronimo Valley, or could turn north to join the proposed ridge route in the vicinity of Sleepy Hollow, returning to the central corridor route near Woodacre.

A third possibility would be to continue the departure from the Miracle Mile to the northwest where it would join the Lucas Valley corridor in the vicinity of Big Rock and continue along Bull Tail Valley and Halleck Creek to Nicasio.

In accepting these the three basic routes for further study, the commission voted to postpone indefinitely any consideration of route adoption beyond Nicasio Hill to Point Reyes Station.

The commission also voted to study the need for a county-county-constructed White Hill-Freitas Parkway connecting highway.

At suggestion of commissioner Hugh Dougherty, the commission passed a resolution calling on the state to study the possibility of "convertible freeway," in which a transit corridor might be reserved for trains, buses or other means of mass transit.

The commissioners also went on record as recommending that Fairfax, San Rafael and San Anselmo study the possibility of coordinated redevelopment, and authorized the county planning staff to work with those cities if requested.

Over the objections of Greene, the commission 4-to-1 with Commissioner Eugene R. Trombley dissenting, to ask the state to postpone its scheduled Nov. 14 public hearing on the proposed routes for four months.

Suffers Heart Attack

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — Former Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield was reported in satisfactory condition at a Flint hospital today after suffering what was described as a light heart attack.

Library Floor Plan Studied; Standards Met

Sausalito Library board recommended Monday night that the new library provide 10,500 square feet of useable space.

The recommendation to the city council was consistent with state and federal guidelines that the library provide one square foot per person expected to live in the city in 20 years.

Commissioners adopted a resolution opposing Prop. 16, the "clean" amendment, terming the proposition "unworkable" Commissioners said it "would effectively cripple every public library in the state" because the merits of each book could be challenged by any citizen.

Firemen Rescue Two Almost-Alpinists

Two young boys, would-be mountain climbers, were rescued by the Larkspur fire department yesterday after the boys became stranded 10 feet from the top of a hill.

The boys were climbing the 35-foot shale hill above the railroad tracks off William Avenue about 4:10 p.m. when they became stuck. After firemen pulled them to the top of the hill with ropes, the boys, both about 12 years old, took off before firemen could get their names.

Now, How Do They Really Fly?

NEW DELHI (AP) — In response to a qeustion, Aviation minister S. M. Poonacha told Parliament the government could NOT at this time provide a flying club in Salem, in south-central India, with an airstrip.

"How then does the club operate?" asked Arjun Arora, a member of Parliament. "Do they fly aircraft or kites?"

Pooncha asked for time to study the situation before replying again.

Club Creates Youth Posts

Homestead Valley Improvement Club directors last night created a special activities committee to include valley youths in the club.

Appointed to the committee were Deborah and Gretchen Lawlor, Marci Malour, David Galey, Craig and Ames Vincent, and Lisa Golden. The committee is planning a film festival for December, said Bernard M. Weinstein, club president.

Directors took no action on a suggestion by Mill Valley City Mgr. Bert A. Balmer that valley resident request annexation to the city.

Agenda Varied One For Joint Meeting

Mill Valley School District trustees and city councilmen will hold the first of four joint meetings scheduled in the next nine months at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the district office, 26 Miller Avenue.

Subjects to be discussed include development of Project 17 as a recreation and school site creation of a cul-de-sac at the East Blithedale Avenue end of Catalpa Avenue to allow enlargement of the Park School site, and proposed annexation to Sausalito School District of the west side of Tennessee Valley, now split by the two districts.

Family Planning Drawing Support

NEW DELHI (AP) A member of India's ruling Congress party has said that any Congressman with more than four children should be denied a ticket in the 1967 national elections.

Dr. Sripati Chandrasekhar, member of Parliament, told the Upper House that family planning was vital in India. He said anyone who had married since 1960 and already had three children should be branded "traitors."

BOARD

one of the most vicious kind of precedents."

In his letter, Lawson started by asking why the county had a park and recreation commission. He charged that the action was contrary to policy of both the commission and the board, and that the board had made a "pork-barrel" raid on the department's site acquisition fund to make the donation.

"In all sincerity, I can see no justification for your action other than political; and if true, this would be, to me, inexcusable," he wrote. 'It may, in fact, be illegal and should be checked by county counsel before the actual transfer takes place.'

'If your board wishes to silence this protest, it will be necessary for you to exercise your prerogative, established by ordinance and remove me from the commission."

Two other members of the commission have also written protesting the action and threatening to resign, it was learned today.

Commissioners Howard Council and Lothar Salin both wrote that there was no purpose in their continued service on the commission if the board of supervisors is to act contrary to policy and without commission review.

Council's letter said local recreation facilities should be provided by residents of the area served. Salin wrote that the board deviated from the master plan and acted "without a minimum of courtesy" to the commission.

Both said today they no longer want to serve if the board is to continue such actions.

No member of the commission was present for yesterday's discussion.

Mill Valley Mayor Albert E. White had also written protesting the county taking a role in local projects rather than regional ones. He said the city would be justified to ask county funds for its projects if districts are to be aided.

Land For School Set At $350,000

A condemnation suit for a 46-acre Tiburon peninsula high school site has been settled out-of court for a total price of $350,000 following six days of trial in Marin Superior Court.

The plaintiff, Tamalpais High School District, had maintained that about $275,000 would be a fair price for the district to pay for the land, which completes a 51 acre school site adjacent to Belveron Gardens.

The 140 defendants — many holding second deeds of trust in the property —and trustees in bankruptcy of the estate of Los Angeles Trust Deed and Mortgage Exchange contended the property value was approximately $450,000.

A date for confirmation of the agreement by the court will be set Nov. 28.

Centaur Passes Test On Restart

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI)—A Centaur rocket restarted its engines in space for the first time today to prove it finally has mastered the orbital launching technique needed to keep Surveyor spacecraft flying to the moon next winter and spring.

The high-powered Centaur, making its last test flight, showed its adaptability to high energy liquid hydrogen fuel in weightless orbit by firing the second time to kick a test payload into deep space.

For today's stop-start test, the Centaur upper stage carried a 1,600-pound dummy Surveyor lunar lander and was aiming toward a "paper moon," an imaginary point 226,000 miles away where the moon will be on Jan. 24.

San Rafael Recreation Gets School Tax Split

The San Rafael Board of Education last night agreed to donate a portion of its community services tax revenue to the San Rafael recreation program.

Board members approved contributing 1.2 cents of the elementary district tax rate and .9 of a cent of the high school district rate, a total of 2.1 cents, starting in the 1967-68 school year.

Last fiscal year the two school districts each levied the maximum community services tax rate of five cents per $100 valuation.

The board contributed $10,000 from each district to the recreation program, this year, reversing a previous practice of contributing about one-third of the recreation budget.

If the board had contributed under the formula this year, the contributions would have been $10,059 from the elementary district and $10,455 from the high school district, according to Business Mgr. Charles L. Condrotte.

He estimated that the contributions next year would be $10,504 from the elementary district butions next year would be $10,504 from the elementary district and $11,020 from the high school district, increasing with the assessed valuation in the districts.

Members objected to the open-end method this year and met with the San Rafael Parks and Recreation Commission to find a new formula.

At that meeting, both groups reacted favorably to a suggestion by Mayor C. Paul Bettini that a fixed percentage of the community services tax be earmarked for the recreation program.

The San Rafael Board Of Education Also:

1. Awarded B. and B. Holsinger Inc., Burlingame, low bidder, a contract to supply 535 auditorium seats for the remodelled main building at San Rafael High School at a cost of $19,581, top price of three alternate seat models, and awarded Tacoma Millwork Supply Co., Tacoma, Wash., low bidder, a contract to supply cabinets and teachers closets at the main building at a cost of $13,025.

2. Approved a project to provide library materials for the elementary district under a federal grant of $3,666.

3. Hired landscape architects Katy and Paul Steinmetz of San Rafael to prepare a master landscaping plan for Santa Venetia Middle School at a cost of $300, after Acting Supt. William C. Jordan reported the landscape in the area of the new addition as "stark."

4. Hired Jack Rhodes, substitute custodian, at $2.31 an hour, and Mrs. Donna Dowing, noon supervisor, Laurel Dell Primary School.

5. Accepted resignations of Mrs. Margaret Henley, noon supervisor, San Rafael High School; Robert Ruffin, bus driver; Rocco Russo, custodian, Glenwood School, and Susan Welcom, noon supervisor, Glenwood School.

8. Adjourned until next Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. for a closed session to discuss the candidates for superintendent.

Board member Walter R. Castro Jr., who is ill, was absent.

Jury To Probe Negro Uprisings

OAKLAND (AP)—The Alameda County Grand Jury has been asked to investigate recent Negro disorders in Oakland and any possible connection between them and the Oakland school boycott by a Negro organiation.

The grand jury was called by the Alameda County Board of Supervisors yesterday and to consider indictments against the ad hoc committee which organized the boycott.

The supervisors also voted its support for Dist. Atty. J. Frank Coakley in his announced intention to prosecute those arrested in the disturbances that included the invasion of Castlemont High School by a gang of nonstudents.

County Eyes Preschoolers' High Costs

County supervisors did some figuring yesterday and discovered that the preschool program in Marin, supported by state, federal and county funds, will cost about $1,100 per pupil per year.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen noted that he is sending a daughter to private boarding school at a cost of $2,200 a year.

We know it's high," said Kenneth W. Lowry of the county superintendent of schools office, "but we are bound by state and federal requirements."

County contribution toward the $277,647 project was $47,354. The pre-school center will continue at Marin City and a new one will be established in Novato.

The board approved the program formally yesterday, ratifying an earlier action that overruled the county board of education.

Summer School Enrollment Cost Figures Given Board

San Rafael Elementary School District's summer school session last summer, resumed after a one-year layoff, had an enrollment of 1,299, according to Martin Parlan, principal of Laurel Dell Intermediate School

Parlan reported to the San Rafael Board of Education last night that the session was open to primary students, pre-kindergarten through third grade, for the first time.

Enrollment consisted of 800 from the younger group and 499 from fourth through seventh grades, he said.

The cost of the session was "roughly $42,000," but the major costs were paid by federal funds. The cost to the district was $4,774.

MENTAL HEALTH PLAN FACES CUTS

Supervisors Hear Proposals For Building Revision, Possible Tax Increase Next Year

Marin County Supervisors yesterday discussed a possible increase in the property tax rate next year to make up a $75,220 deficit in the community mental health center project.

Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella told supervisors it would be possible to eliminate four offices, two patient rooms, and two multi-purpose rooms and thereby cut $43,000 from the $1,366,944 estimated cost of the project, or delete six offices, two patient rooms, and four multi-purpose rooms to cut $75,000 from the estimate.

These could be written in as bid alternates, Campanella said.

He recommended that the board also consider additional property tax next year to cover the deficit. The Marin Hospital District could also levy a tax, he said.

To raise $75,000 would require an increase of just under 2 cents per $100 assessed valuation on the county tax rate.

The Short-Doyle project was to be supported by one-third federal and one-third state funds. These were authorized under an application by the county several months ago, but since then, estimates have gone up.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen said the county should try to get state and federal participation increased, but County Administrator Alan Bruce said this would require a brand new application. County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell said the chance was nil.

Mrs. Trudie Baum of the Marin County Mental Health Assn. said the possibility of additional private donations should not be discarded.

There has been $150,000 already pledged in private donations. The hospital district has provided the site and another $150,000, and the county yet another $150,000.

Mitchell said the hospital district will also have to assign $33,264 from donations for the hospital library.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr said the board would have to indicate its intent to raise the difference of the deficit through taxes prior to asking for bids.

"This is correct," County Public Works Director Donald R. Frost declared.

Supervisors delayed any action for two weeks to give the hospital district board and the Marin County Mental Health Advisory Board a chance to study the problem.

Marin County Board Of Supervisors Also:

1. Adopted a resolution asking federal support of the veteran's service office for counties.
2. Heard a letter from Hal Aguirre contractors Roberts and Aguirre of Novato, agreeing to provide a bridle path in Marin Highlands Unit Two, west of Novato. Supervisors have held up setback variances pending the bridle path agreement.
3. Set hearing on the first tentative map in the Dias Ranch west of Mill Valley for Nov. 22.
4. Waived the minority race requirement in the county's apprenticeship program to open a spot for a 20-year-old youth who has been unemployed several weeks and receiving general relief from the county.
5. Authorized overtime payments in the county probation department to speed up processing custody case investigations, but delayed for two weeks discussion of recommendation to the legislature for a bill requiring litigants to pay the cost of such investigation.
6. Hired Jean B. Carlson as half-time senior clerk in the department of economic development at $209 a month.
7. Promoted William F. Johansen from inspector at $870 to lieutenant at $914 in the sheriff's department, and Faith F. Nelson from senior stenographer at $510 a month to veterans service assistant at $536 a month in the veterans service office.
8. Called for bids at 1:30 p.m. Nov. 28 on second phase development of Paradise Beach County Park. This year's budget includes $42,000 for the job.
9. Denied the application of Don Bailey to bury old timbers and metal in the Myrtle Street right of way in Richardson Bay tidelands.
10. Authorized raises from $5,832 to $6,432 a year for communications dispatchers and a raise from $6,432 to $7,080 a year for the chief communications dispatcher, and then ordered a $4,830 transfer from the communications equipment fund to cover the increase in payroll.
11. Adjourned in memory of George M. Henderson, Marin district manager for Pacific Gas and Electric Co., who died Saturday.

Board Chairman Byron W. Leydecker was forced to leave due to illness soon after yesterday's meeting began. Vice Chairman Thomas T. Storer took the gavel.

Novato Votes To Support ABAG Plan

The Novato City Council last night authorized William Jack Adams, its representative on the Assn. of Bay Area Governments, to vote for a limited regional government with limited taxing powers to be run by 15 elected representatives.

The council balked some before voting these intructions.

Adams, who had voted with a majority an ABAG committee to ask for a regional government with power to levy taxes up to one cent and the power to condemn and acquire property, asked the council for instructions on how to vote in the general assembly of ABAG on Nov. 4.

Mayor J. Wayne Womack said ABAG had not turned out to be the super planning and advisory agency that it was supposed to be.

"I fought ABAG for three years. They want to take the power away from the cities. We wanted home rule when we incorporated and now we're giving it away," said Councilman M. E. Babe Silva.

"We're not getting our money's worth from it. Look at their head man getting $25,000 a year and we're not getting anything out of it," Silva continued.

"It's coming eventually," Adams shot back, refering to regional government. "Something has got to make sense out of the monstrous mess we have."

"I believe that ABAG officials should be elected, so I move to authorize Adams to vote for it," said Councilman Harley McAskill.

Adams then seconded the motion and it carried 4 to 0, with Councilman Douglas M. Merrill absent.

Supervisors Draft Views On Bay Plan

Marin County Supervisors yesterday agreed that any regional government for the Bay should be headed by an elected body, that the membership in the body should be considerably fewer than 100 persons, and that the scope of duties and responsibilities should be broader than suggested in an Assn. of Bay Area Governments report.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr was asked to prepare a statement to this effect to be presented at the ABAG general assembly Nov. 4.

Behr said the board's views might well be combined with those of Novato City Councilman William Jack Adams, an alternate delegate to the general assembly. In that case, Adams could make the presentation on behalf of the board and the Novato City Council.

Other supervisors said this would be fine.

The supervisors, after several discussions, have agreed that the functions of a regional government should include more than park and airport development, regional planning, and refuse disposal.

Lagoon Plan Decision May Be Tomorrow

The proposed $2.2 million development plan for Bolinas Lagoon, under consideration since August, may come to a vote tomorrow before the Bolinas Harbor Commission at 8 p.m. at Bolinas Community center.

Marin Conservation League leaders attacked the plan on the ground that it provides too much development. It would provide berths for 1,500 boats, an island for swimming beaches, a park, restaurants, hotel, harbor offices, marine shopping mall, boat sales, sport fishing, and boat rental facilities.

The plan, by architect-planner Norman T. Gilroy of Mill Valley, would preserve the northern third of the lagoon as a wildlife refuge. Dredging of the lagoon is necessary to prevent further siltation, Gilroy said.

If approved by the harbor commissioners, the plan would require approval by the county planning commission and board of supervisors.

Guitars Stolen

Theft of four guitars worth $2,050 was reported yesterday to Mill Valley police by Barry Thorpe, 11, of 40 Alvarado Avenue. The guitars were taken from his home, where his father William Thorpe, teaches music.

Hub City Starts Hunt For Flautt Successor

The San Anselmo City Council last night directed City Administrator Douglas J. Flautt, who is resigning Jan. 1, to start advertising for his replacement.

The council agreed that the city needs a chief administrative officer, but Councilman Duane C. Ragan ... the $15,528 salary, plus $3,968 allowances, paid the present city administrator are too high.

He suggested a salary of $12,500. However, after Mrs. Anne West noted that the public works director's salary is $13,200 the council voted to leave the salary open.

The council decided the successor's duties should be roughly those defined in the city's administrator ordinance, but that he should be a resident of San Anselmo within 180 days of the time he is hired.

The administrator ordinance as originally adopted required San Anselmo residence. It was amended early this year to eliminate the requirement, after considerable flurry over the fact that Flautt had been living in San Rafael since about six months after he was hired.

Ragan asked for repeal of a section of the ordinance that makes department heads answerable only to the administrator, with no appeal to the council, but no action was taken on this.

"I think we should take all the time we need to find the man we really want," Councilman Arthur W. Smith remarked. "Or woman," Councilman Robert M. Scott added.

A man in the audience said the council should choose a man from among the city's present or retired employees. "Give someone in San Anselmo a break," he urged.

But a woman in the audience disagreed. "Don't quibble over one or two thousand dollars — get the most capable man. Don't worry about giving a man in San Anselmo a break, give the taxpayers a break," she urged.

The council could not agree on educational or experience qualifications for the administrator, but accepted Flautt's offer to draw up a job announcement with qualifications.

Police Halt Young Teen Theft Ring

Two 14-year-old Mill Valley boys have been cited by police to the county juvenile probation department on charges of stealing property worth more than $1,000 in at least 20 thefts.

A third 14-year-old boy, also a resident of the Mill Valley area, is under investigation by the sherrif's office for participation in the ring, Mill Valley police said.

The thefts, all in recent months, were from homes and vehicles in the Mill Valley area, police said.

Police have compiled a list of over 100 articles stolen by the youths, ranging in value from a few pennies to more than $200.

The list includes a loaded .32 caliber pistol, cameras, radios, watches, gas tank caps, a .22 caliber rifle, cash and tools.

The boys spent the cash, police said, but discarded most of the property, some of which has been recovered.

G.I. BEATING PUZZLE

Our Sleuths Need Surveyor's Skills

By ROBERT M. STREBEIGH

"The Case of the Waylaid Soldiers" got bounced from agency to agency for a day and a half and, for awhile, it appeared to be nobody's baby.

The question was who should follow up all those juicy clues: The California Highway Patrol? The Marin County Sheriff's Department? The San Rafael Police Department?

PAIR BEATEN

According to Sheriff's Inspector Arthur Menjou, however, there was no danger of the baby being dropped while passed around. "We go right ahead and investigate these things," he said, "while we try to figure out who has jurisdiction."

It all began about 4:30 p.m. Sunday, according to Robert E. Parault, 20, and William H. Burns, 22, both enlisted men stationed at Nike bases in the county.

On Highway 101 opposite San Rafael's Bermuda Palms Motel, they were forced to a stop by three carloads of hoodlums who beat them up and then drove off, continung north on the freeway.

Witnesses to the beating shortly afterward came upon Highway Patrolman David Salkend atop Puerto Suello Hill, giving a ticket to a motorist. They gave him an account of the attack.

According to Highway Patrol Capt. T. F. Parnow, Salkend promptly broadcast an alert for the caravan of hoodlums, then returned to the scene.

ALERT CANCELLED

Finding nobody there, Parnow said, "Salkend decided it was a false alarm and cancelled the alert." In any event, the case appeared to be one for the sheriff's department or the San Rafael police, since it involved an assault and not a traffic violation.

Meanwhile, Perault and Burns, the latter leaving today for South Viet Nam, reported the assault to the San Rafael police. Their report reached Police Lt. Earl W. Christensen's desk Monday morning.

"I took one look at the report," Christensen said, "and knew it was a sheriff's case," because that stretch of the highway is in county and not city territory.

IN THE COUNTY

"At that point," he said, "everything west of the middle of Francisco Boulevard East is in the county, and this was 'way west."

Christensen forwarded the report to the sheriff's department, where it was studied and judged San Rafael's baby. Meanwhile, however, the report passed through channels at the sheriff's office, winding up yesterday morning on Inspector Menjou's desk.

Doubt as to jurisdiction in "The Case of the Waylaid Soldiers" persisted well into yesterday afternoon, when it was decided the case belonged to the sheriff's department.

This decision, Christensen and Menjou agreed, was child's play compared to deciding jurisdiction in some areas of the county. Said Menjou, "Why, on San Pedro Road alone, the boundary wavers all over the road, at five places at least."

REAL PUZZLE

And had it happened on Francisco Boulevard East, where the northbound lane is in San Rafael and the southbound lane is in the county, the puzzle might never have been solved.

Asked what would have happened then, Menjou said, "That's a good question and I refuse to even think about it."

Said Christensen, "That would be very complicated. We'd just have to try to figure it out."

The slightness of Burns' injuries — both men were given first aid at the San Rafael Nike base for superficial cuts and bruises—may hamper Menjou's investigation.

As army spokesman said there was no intention of delaying Burns's departure, which was scheduled today.

"That doesn't help, either," said Menjou, perhaps wishing the whole thing could be turned over to the Army, or maybe the Coast Guard.

Limantour Spit's Nomadic History May Go To Court

A jury trial will probably be required early next year to determine the value of shifting sand dunes which form the three-mile Limantour Spit off Point Reyes Peninsula, according to Rodney H. Hamblin of the United States attorney's office in San Francisco.

In a preliminary ruling in April, U.S. District Court Judge Lloyd H. Burke said the spit belongs to Drake's Beach Estates.

The government had maintained that the spit was not yet formed when the original Spanish grant of propery now owned by the land development company was surveyed by the government in 1858.

The government maintained that a shifting sand dune, such as the Limantour Spit, may be formed or swept away by a single storm, or built up over a period of many years.

In the past, Drakes Beach Estates has contended that the area has a value in excess of one million dolars. The Department of Interior has condemned the spit for inclusion in the Point Reyes National Seashore.

Hamblin would not reveal what the government is prepared to pay for the land, but said, "I'm sure we will have a jury trial, because I'm sure it is not as much as they are asking."

Benjamin P. Bonelli, president of Drakes Bech Estates, would not say yesterday what his company is now asking for the land.

Mobutu Fires Defense Boss; Takes On Role

KINSHASA, the Congo (AP) — President Joseph Mobutu fired Premier Leonard Mulamba today and appointed him defense minister.

Mobutu took over the premier's office and decreed a "presidential regime." He announced all other Cabinet ministers would remain in office.

Mulamba's dismissal had been expected because of accusations that he was implicated in the recent Katangese mutiny in Kisangani — Stanleyville. Mobutu reportedly supported Mulamba before the army high command and tried to get the other army leaders to let Mulamba hold the Defense Ministry. The army reportedly refused, and Mulamba's new appointment was a surprise.

Mulamba is regarded as a national military hero. A career soldier and a brigadier general, he was originally a supporter of the late Premier Patrice Lumumba.

Supervisors Study Closed Sessions

Marin County Supervisors, instead of meeting as a committee of two, may meet as a full board in private session to consider salaries of county executives.

This was the trend in a discussion of salary considerations yesterday. Supervisor William A. Gnoss, however, said he was not much in favor of the two-man committee and "not much in favor of a closed session either."

County Administrator Alan Bruce said salaries are only secondary. The main purpose of the session, he contended, is to evaluate the employee.

(The Ralph M. Brown Act, which prohibits closed sessions by public bodies, make an exception for hiring or firing but none for "evaluating the employee.")

County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney said, in his opinion, if the board can make a finding that the discussion will determine "whether he (the department head) will stay or go" and makes this finding "in good faith," then a closed session would be legal.

"The board cannot meet in closed session for the sole issue of discussing salaries," Maloney said.

Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen suggested a stronger merit pay system for department heads. He said there could be a base salary fixed for the position and increase that could be based on merit and fixed by the board in closed session. This was before Maloney's advice they could not meet in closed session on salaries.

Supervisor Peter H. Behr, just back from a three-week vacation, asked: "What happened? Did we get a finger shaking editorial from the Independent-Journal? Is this why we are so jerky?"

Bruce said he was responding to an editorial of Oct. 15, questioning the "Executive salary committee" practice, but said he had been considering some recommendations for some time as well.

He said the board could either continue its present, two-man system, increase to five men and meet in closed session, or meet as the full board in open session. (This, also, was before Maloney gave his opinion.)

In any case, he urged the name to change to "executive evaluation committee, to reflect accurately its primary function."

Supervisors put off any decision for two weeks.

Bruce Scolded For Inaction On Rec Center

County Administrator Alan Bruce was scolded by Supervisor Ernest N. Kettenhofen yesterday for lack of action in repairing damage to the temporary recreation center in Marin City.

The center has been closed two months because of damage by vandalism. The damage to the structure, reported yesterday at $2,896, was not discovered by the sheriff's department until Oct. 15.

Kettenhofen, who knew of the damage several months ago, sent a memorandum to fellow supervisors, Bruce, and Douglas Quiett, then director of community relations services. He asked that the damage be quietly repaired in a community effort.

"I believe you should have made more effort to get things done," Kettenhofen told Bruce. "This has upset me quite deeply. When you receive a confidential memo of that magnitude, something should be done."

He further said that "all the more moderate heads in Marin City did not know about it soon enough to take a more active role."

Kettenhofen also criticized the sheriff's department for being unaware of the damage until making "a dramatic discovery over the weekend." He said the damage was obvious.

"If the patrolling deputies had ever glanced at the building, they would have seen it," he said. "Every time you drive by it was abvious."

Bruce accepted the criticism, saying it was "well taken."

The damage estimate yesterday did not include that to furnishings, including a pool table, tennis table, and lockers.

The board asked that an insurance claim be filed.

Bruce said he will report next week on possible alternate uses for the building, rented from Modulux Corp. on a two-year, $8,000 lease.

Council Relents On Razing Old San Anselmo Building

The San Anselmo City Council last night reversed itself on the condemnation ordered against a building at 721 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at the Oct. 11 counlil session.

The council two weeks ago gave Marius Cordone 30 days to demolish the building, without option of bringing the building up to code. Cordone was not at that meeting, but attended last night's session with an attorney Charles W. Pierce.

The council first condemned the building last December then changed its mind and gave Cordone a year to bring the building up to code.

Pierce told the council last night that about half of the work has been done. He said Cordone could complete the rest of the work in 30 days.

City Engineer Charles R. Leitzell reported Cordone had brought the electrical wiring up to code two weeks ago, the day after the council condemned the building.

The council asked Leitzell to inspect the building and report Nov. 15.

The San Anselmo City Council also:

1. Postponed opening bids on weed abatement because no bids had been received.

2. Heard a report from Flautt that Donald McArthur, owner of McArthur's bar, has had acoustical board installed across the back of his bar to satisfy the council's request for abatement of the noise from the bar's two-piece band.

3. Accepted the deed to the $60,000 parking lot the city is buying at Pine Street and San Anselmo Avenue.

4. Voted to endorse Proposition One on the Nov. 8 ballot, amendment permitting investment of public pension or retirement funds in common stocks.

5. Voted to notify the county Board of Supervisors, and Planning Commission and State Division of Highways that the city favors the ridge route for Highway 17.

6. Voted 3-to-2, Mayor John M. Reichmuth and Councilman Robert M. Scott dissenting, to pave a parking lot in front of the tennis courts near Sonoma Avenue, and to put in curb and gutter and sidewalk on the city's side of the street, for $2,500 from the city reserve fund. The reserve fund, after this expenditure, will total $9,500.

Population Forecast

NEW DELHI (AP) — City officials estimate the capital's population will reach 5.5 million by 1981 and that three million persons will be without adequate shelter because of the slow pace of home construction and shortage of building materials.

U.N. Delegate Defines U.S. Viet Nam Role

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — This country's involvement in Viet Nam is not a "holy war" against communism but rather an effort to assure the people of South Viet Nam the right to self-determination, United Nations Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg declared last night.

A fight involving members of the American Nazi party erupted outside the Southern Methodist University auditorium moments before Goldberg spoke.

Police arrested four men — three of them wearing military attire and swastika arm bands — after a man in civilian clothes punched one of the others on the chin. All four were charged with disturbing the peace.

Novato Officialdom Upset With Some County Policies

Relations between Marin County and the City of Novato are not so smooth as the Novato City Council would like, and it wants to talk things over with County Supervisor William A. Gnoss.

No time or place was set for the meeting, but the subject matter definitely was set: The county's proposal that police departments be combined with the sheriff's office.

City Mgr. J. Julien Baget said he was perturbed at the supervisors' meeting yesterday when the proposal was put forward. He said Gnoss made sure that the Black Point Improvement Assn. and Loma Verde Homeowners Assn. would be notified.

"I felt that he was more concerned with these two areas than the entire city of Novato," Baget said.

Mayor J. Wayne Womack recalled that when the same idea was suggested by his predecessor, Robert D. Carrow, it "brought a storm of protests from the citizens of Novato."

Two Given Fines For Drunken Driving

Arnold M. Cooper, 52, of 5 Hillside Avenue, Kentfield, was fined $289 in Marin Municipal Court yesterday for drunken driving. He was convicted by jury Oct. 18 following his arrest Aug. 24 by Larkspur police on Magnolia Avenue.

Orestes Morales Ortega, of Hayward was fined $100 with an additional $250 fine suspended, and put on six months probation, also for drunken driving. San Anselmo police arrested him on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard Oct. 16.

Just Two Calls For Hospital Bed

MELBOURNE (AP) — Melbourne doctors are making use of Australia's first dial-a-bed service for hospital patients.

Nine big public hospitals are in the scheme and more are preparing to join.

The service reduces the time it takes to get a hospital bed for people who suddenly become ill. Twice daily, the hospitals report to ambulance headquarters what beds are available and for what type of cases. The beds and the types are then listed on a central control board.

Doctors must first check with the local hospital. If no bed is available there, the doctor can then ring the service to see where he can place the patient. Doctors say they are now getting beds in just two telephone calls, against as many as 12 calls before the service began.

Judge Grants Grand Theft Trial Delay

Jury trial of Kegwin Shahenian, 48, charged with grand theft in unemployment compensation, was continued yesterday in Marin Superior Court to permit the defense to prepare a motion for dismissal because of insufficient evidence.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson, who granted the delay, scheduled hearing on the motion for Monday morning.

Shahenian, of 1222 Fourth Street, San Rafael, is accused of obtaining over $1,000 from the State Department of Employment during the period from March 10 to Oct. 10, 1965, while he also was drawing over $1,200 in wages at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael.

Public Defender Jerome Durham, who represents Shahenian, has protested the felony status of the case because previous unemployment compensation cases have been handled as misdemeanor offenses under a section of the Unemployment Insurance Code.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Michael Anthony said his office feels such cases should be handled like other theft cases, that is, if the amount involved is over $200, it should be a felony charge.

New Pump Approved

Sausalito-Marin City Sanitary District directors approved a $3,337 contract Monday with Cooley Co. of San Francisco for a variable speed pumping motor. Formation of an assessment district for Waldo Point houseboat owners was continued.

Novato Set For Law On School Sites

The City of Novato, home of the man who originated the idea, may soon have a city ordinance requiring that school sites in subdivisions of 400 or more dwelling units be sold to the school district at subdivider's cost.

The Novato City Council last night introduced such an ordinance, to implement the Kirk Law.

The law, originated by William H. Kirk when he was a trustee of Novato Unified School District, was introduced in last year's legislative session by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

The Novato council issued an invitation for Kirk to attend its Nov. 15 meeting, when the ordinance will be up for final passage.

Central Tiburon Plan On Agenda

Development of Tiburon's downtown area will be discussed by the Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission at 8 p.m. tomorrow in City Hall.

Included for special consideration are the proposed park lagoon area near Safeway, landscaping downtown, a teen-age center, and the town square.

Commissioners will also discuss their general recommendations for commercial recreation area, the downtown parking problem, and location of a civic center.

Car Stereo Stolen

Theft of a $147 automobile stereophonic set from the car of Howell E. Rogers, 405 Maple Street, Tamalpais Valley, was reported by sheriff's deputies today. The vehicle was parked at home.

POLITICAL BRIEFS

Hardcastle Backs Young For Senate

Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato, long-time spokesman for Marin commuters, today announced he has accepted honorary chairmanship of "Republicans for Pearce Young."

Assemblyman Young is Democratic candidate for state Senate, opposing Sen. John F. (Jack) McCarthy, R-San Rafael.

Hardcastle said he is confident that "Pearce Young will be in constant communication the year round with the boards of supervisors, city councils, district boards and other public bodies as well as civic organizations so that he will be aware at all times of the people's needs."

CLAUSEN REPORTS

Rep. Don H. Clausen, speaking at a Santa Rosa luncheon Monday, expressed pleasure at having 17 of his legislative proposals adopted in Congress this year.

Speaking at El Rancho-Tropicana, Clausen said he authored or co-authored 62 bills, and "the contents of 17 have been approved by the Congress." He listed the 17, including disaster relief measures, 12-mile fishing zone, funds for Point Reyes Seashore, repeal of excise taxes, and others.

"Not all of these bills were passed over my name, of course," said Clausen. "The senior members of the majority party like to adopt ideas — and this is to their credit. I like to see things accomplished no matter whose name is on the final version of the bill."

TV DEBATE

Thomas T. Storer, candidate for Congress, has challenged Congressman Don H. Clausen to a debate, charging that "by refusing to debate me, he is denying the right of the people to make a free choice on the candidates and issues."

Storer issued the challenge over radio stations in Santa Rosa and Petaluma last Friday. Storer said he would be available anytime between now and the election for a television debate.

STORER BACKED

Katharine Miller Johnson, widow of the late Rep. Clem Miller, announced she is supporting Thomas T. Storer for Congress.

"His proposal for a Redwoods National Park is forthright, sensible and shows political courage. . . . Should he be elected, I believe he will do his best, as did Clem, for the people of the First District," she said.

FOR WILLIAMS

Joseph E. Sheeks has been named chairman of the Marin attorneys committee for Spencer Williams for Attorney General.

Sheeks, former mayor of Mill Valley, is with the law firm of Bagley, Bernt, Bianchi and Sheeks.

Spencer Williams, county counsel of Santa Clara County for the past 10 years, is Republican candidate.

YOUNG CITED

Assemblyman Pearce Young, D-Napa and Solano, has been awarded a certificate of recognition for outstanding contribution to law enforcement.

The award, by the Peace Officers Research Assn., was presented by Sgt. Harold Stall, member of the Vallejo police department.

PG&E Customers To Get Refunds

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The Public Utilities Commission approved today Pacific Gas & Electric Co.'s plan to distribute $1,163,189 in refunds to gas customers. PG&E collected the refund money from 71 Paso Natural Gas Co.

Household and small general service customers would receive a credit of 27 cents on November bills.

The refund is another in a series resulting from refunds paid by producers to El Paso Gas on its purchases of natural PGE passed on to its customers the refunds.

An estimated 428,000 divorces and annulments were granted in the United States during 1963, recently completed statistics show.

IVY BAKER PRIEST
Says treasurer by-passed

Mrs. Priest: Brown Controls The Treasury

By PATRICIA ZINN

Gov. Edmund G. Brown and some of his aides by-passed the elected office of state treasurer in creating the Revenue and Management Agency, Ivy Baker Priest said last night in a San Rafael press interview.

Mrs. Priest, Republican candidate opposing Bert A. Betts for the state treasurer's post, made the statement during an interview at Dominic's Restaurant, where she spoke before 80 members of the Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin. She spoke on the "Role of Women in Government." Lareta Pinney was chairman for the evening.

Mrs. Priest said State Treasurer Betts was also "derelict" in agreeing to allow the governor to gain control over state financial functions.

In October, 1961, said Mrs. Priest, the Revenue and Management Agency was created by executive order of Brown. It was composed of an informal group of the Department of Finance, State Employees' Retirement System, State Personnel Board, Franchise Tax Board and State Scholarship Commission. Hale Champion was named agency director by the governor. Neither the state treasurer nor the state controller was included in the agency.

The former treasurer of the United States said she is eager to "strip the veil of secrecy that surrounds the state of the treasury in California" and would prepare simplified and periodic reports to the people.

She further asserted she is eager to find out if there is "any more surplus money lying around" and to cut out the duplication of jobs by doing the job that the state is paying the treasurer to carry out.

Mrs. Priest promised to work more closely with every department of state government and would demand an overhaul of the tax structure to find additional revenues.

Woman's Body Found In Bay

The body of a 35-year-old Berkeley woman, missing since last Wednesday when she reportedly fell off a boat at the Sausalito Yacht Club, was found today near the Spinnaker restaurant.

As head bartender Heinz Stein arrived for work, he saw the body floating face down about 25 yards southwest of the restaurant. This is about 150 yards from where Mrs. Dora Lee Petty reportedly fell off the shrimp boat Maria Z.

The body was recovered by Sausalito police and firemen, and identified as that of Mrs. Petty.

Lake Baykal in Siberia contains almost as much water as all the Great Lakes combined, says National Geographic.

SCIENCE FICTION COMES TO LIFE

This automatic, miniaturized space laboratory built by Philco-Ford Co. demonstrates on an earthly beach the talents it is expected to display after landing on an alien world. Old Pamphlet Recalls Bay Land Grab Case

"The proofs of fraud are as conclusive and irresistable as the attempted fraud itself has been flagrant and audacious." So wrote District Judge Ogden Hoffman in 1858, finally putting to rest the claim made by entrepreneaur Jose Y. Limantour for Angel Island, the tip of the Tiburon Peninsula, and much of San Francisco.

Judge Hoffman's decision, in pamphlet form, has been donated to the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society by Mrs. Wellman H. Topham, a charter member of the society. The 100-year-old booklet was found among papers collected by her grandfather, Jose Marcos Mugarrietta, the first Mexican Consul to San Francisco after the establishment of the Mexican Republic.

Limantour's claim, according to Judge Hoffman, was "without parallel in the judicial history of the country," and he continues in the printed decision, "On reviewing the whole case, it is not easy to confine within the limits of judicial moderation the expression of our indignation at the fraud which has been attempted to be perpetrated."

The pamphlet will be displayed among other historic exhibits in the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society museum, in Old St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon. The museum is open from noon until 4 p.m., Wednesdays and Sundays.

Many Venereal Disease, Strep Cases Reported

Eleven cases of venereal disease and 45 cases of streptococcic infections were reported in Marin County last week, according to county health officer Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht.

Five cases of gonorrhea were reported in Novato, three in San Rafael, one in Mill Valley and one in the county's unincorporated areas. One case of syphilis was reported in San Rafael.

Of the 45 cases of streptococcus infections, 31 were in Novato, eight in San Rafael, two each in the Belvedere-Tiburon and Corte Madera areas and one each in Mill Valley and Fairfax. Two cases of infectious hepatitis were reported, one in Belvedere-Tiburon and the other in an unincorporated county area.

Spain Halts Trade With Gibraltar

LA LINEA, Spain (AP) — Spain closed off trade and motor traffic with Gibraltar yesterday as part of its economic blockade to regain the landmark which Britain seized in 1704.

The 25,000 residents of Gibraltar will now have to be supplied by air or sea, while some 9,000 Spaniards who work on the Rock will have to walk half a mile. Pedestrians and emergency vehicles will be allowed access to the Rock.

Woman Wonders About Charges In Vandalism

Mrs. H. G. McKenzie of Novato has complained to the Marin County Board of Supervisors that no arrest was ever made nor restitution demanded in the vandalism of a building at 1129 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, occupied by a College of Marin "fraternity."

"Many names were taken" but not one student was expelled from college, she said.

She recited the April 28 incident for the board yesterday in connection with reports of vandalism to the recreation center at Marin City, where there not only was no arrest, but also no report to the sheriff's office for two months.

Goldwater Calls On Birch Society To Oust Welch

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The John Birch Society should disclose its membership and oust its leader, Robert Welch, says Barry Goldwater.

In a column published yesterday by the Los Angeles Times Syndicate, the 1964 Republican Presidential candidate said:

"I urge that the Birch Society drop its policy of secrecy regarding membership, making it fully public so that people working for either party can know who the Birch members are and then can judge honestly whether they are working for the best interest of the party...

"If they are in politics simply to advance personal power or for other ulterior motives, they should individually be rejected."

Saying that Welch should be removed as head of the society, Goldwater commented:

"I was perhaps the first man in Washington to debunk and deflate Welch's nightmare visions."

Of Welch's influence on the society, the former U.S. senator said:

"There are undoubtedly Birch members who have tried to seek political influence simply to gain power. I would describe these people as members of the Welch wing of the society.

"But there are undoubtedly many times more members of the society who are active in both political parties as good and loyal members."

Gov. Edmund G. Brown said he agrees with Goldwater's suggestion, commenting:

"His position is similar to the position taken by the Democratic State Central Committee in telegrams to Robert Welch and Ronald Reagan on Oct. 2."

Woman Kills Herself At Husband's Grave

SAN BRUNO (UPI) — Mev Mathan, 44, Los Angeles, committed suicide Monday at her deceased husband's grave in Golden Gate National Cemetry. Police said she shot herself with a .32 caliber revolver which was found next to the body.

Officers said Mrs. Mathan had moved into a San Bruno motel a few days ago so she could visit the grave of her husband, Philip William Mathan, who was buried in 1963.

Purse Theft Reported

Betty J. Whitmore of 308 G Street, San Rafael, complained to police yesterday that someone stole her purse with $30 in it from the coffee table in her living room Saturday night. Police said there was no sign of forced entry.

Fern Box Stolen

Thieves stole a $20 fern and its planter box from the front porch of Sharin E. Hailman's house at 11 Ridgewood Drive, San Rafael, Saturday night, San Rafael police reported today.

Some 3,000 registered nurses in San Francisco and East Bay hospitals were voting today on the panel's proposal.

The hospitals have accepted it.

APPLE PIZZA DESSERT combines canned pie-sliced apples, glace cherries and chopped dates with a mixture of graham cracker crumbs and brown sugar sprinkled on top as a tasty treat for hungry Halloweeners.

SWEET PIZZA

Tricky Dessert With Apples In Middle, Crumbs On Top

In keeping with the Halloween spirit, today's Apple Pizza dessert is both a trick and a treat. The trick is the pizza disguise in which a tempting combination of chopped dates, canned pie-sliced apples, and glace cherries masquerades. The treat is the rich, fruitful taste in each and every bite.

Sprinkle the top of the Apple Pizza with a mixture of graham cracker crumbs and brown sugar and pop it into the oven about a half hour before your hungry Halloweeners are due to return home. Served warm with whipped cream or a scoop of ice cream, it's so good it will disappear as fast as the sprightly spectres that have been ringing your doorbell all evening.

APPLE PIZZA

- 1 pound, 4 ounce can pie-sliced apples, well drained
- ½ cup chopped dates
- 1 3½ ounce jar glace cherries, chopped
- 3 tablespoons honey
- ½ cup graham cracker crumbs
- ¼ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ basic vanilla rolled cookie dough recipe (based on recipe yielding 60 cookies)
- 3½ tablespoons melted butter

Place dough on floured 12-inch pizza pan. Roll into circle, spreading dough to sides of pan with fingers. Chill. Combine drained pie-sliced apples, dates, cherries, and honey. Brush dough with one teaspoon of the melted butter. Arrange apple mixture on top. Blend graham cracker crumbs, brown sugar, nutmeg and remaining melted butter. Sprinkle over top of apple mixture. Bake in moderate oven (375°F.) for 35 minutes. Cut into wedges.

Deviled Clams In Sea Shells Inspired By Henry Thoreau

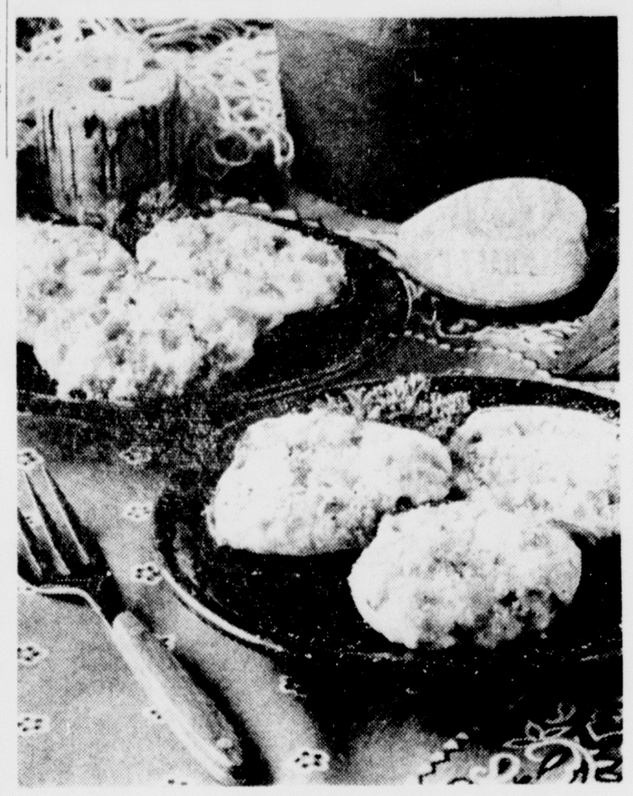
THOREAU'S SAVORY CLAMS

(Makes 3 cups filling — fills 6½ cup size sea shells)

- 2 tablespoons margarine or butter
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1 cup milk
- 1½ cups (one 6-ounce package) shredded gruyere cheese
- 4 tablespoons margarine or butter
- 1 green pepper, finely chopped
- 1 small onion, finely chopped
- 2 teaspoons prepared mustard
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons brandy
- 2 (7½ ounce) cans minced clams, well drained
- 1 tablespoon fine dry bread crumbs
- 2 teaspoons grated parmesan and Romano cheese

CLAM FILLING

In a medium saucepan, melt the 4 tablespoons margarine or butter over medium heat. Add green pepper and onion. Cook over low heat for 10 minutes; stir occasionally. Remove from heat. Stir in mustard, salt, brandy and cheese sauce. Add clams; mix well. Spoon ½ cup filling into each of six (½ cup) sea shells. (Use six ½ cup seashells when serving clams as a maindish. Use 18 small seashells (3 per serving) when serving clams as an appetiezer). Combine bread crumbs and grated cheese; mix well. Sprinkle crumbs evenly over tops of shells. Place a sheet of crumpled aluminum foil on a baking sheet. Press filled shells into foil so that they stand level. Bake in a hot (400 degree) oven 10 minutes. Place under broiler a few seconds just to brown tops. Serve immediately.



THOREAU'S THOUGHTS on seaside cookery inspired these Gruyere cheese-sauced sweet and tender clams sprinkled with bread crumbs and grated Parmesan and romano cheese.

Accent Bourguignon By Marinating Meat

"Bourguignon," "Brunswick" and "Bohemian" — all famous stews — all calling up memories of rich taste pleasures and happy dinner tables. Add a new dimension and flavor accent by marinating the meat first.

BEEF BOURGUIGNON A LA MARINADE

(6-8 servings)

- 4-5 lbs. round bone or 7-bone chuck, cut into 2" cubes, or stewing beef. (If you're using stewing beef, ask butcher for a marrow bone to cook in the stew.)
- 1 package instant meat marinade
- ⅔ cup Burgundy or red cooking wine
- 2 medium onions, sliced (or 18 boiling onions)
- 3 carrots, cut diagonally in one-inch pieces

Thoroughly blend contents of package of instant meat marinade and wine in a shallow pan. Arrange meat in marinade in single layer. Pierce all surfaces of meat thoroughly with fork, to carry flavor deep-down and lock in natural juices. Marinate 15 minutes, turning several times. Place meat and bones from meat, marinade and onions in large skillet or Dutch oven with tight-fitting cover. Cook over low heat, turning each piece of meat once. When liquid begins to bubble, reduce heat and simmer, covered, 1 hour. Add carrots; simmer tightly covered 1¼ hours more or until vegetables are tender. Add Potatoes Delicieuse to stew and serve.

POTATOES DELICIEUSE

- ½ cup instant mashed potatoes
- 1½ cups boiling water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ cup flour
- prepared croutons

Combine instant mashed potatoes, boiling water and salt. (Or use 2 cups regular mashed potatoes). Beat in eggs, nutmeg and flour thoroughly. Mixture should be moist but not so sticky that you can't handle it with floured hand. Spoon out dough by heaping teaspoonsful; place a crouton in center of each and with floured hands, shape into small ball. Drop into gently simmering salted water. Cook 10 to 12 minutes. With slotted spoon, remove, draining well. Toss with melted butter and sprinkle with finely chopped chives or parsley, if you wish. To eat, gently pull these dumplings apart with a fork and spoon — never use a knife to cut them open. Makes 24.

SAUERKRAUT SLAW ALSATTAN

(6 servings)

In saucepan, combine 3 cups sauerkraut, 2 whole onions and 1 cup chicken consomme; simmer over very low heat 45 minutes. Remove onions and chop; return to sauerkraut; let cool. Toss mixture with favorite tart French dressing. (Add diced green pepper and pimiento, if desired.) Serve in scooped-out head of savoy cabbage.

Promise The Family A Better Breakfast

Why not promise to give yourself as well as the family an appetizing and balanced breakfast for at least a month? At the end of the month, check to see how much better every one feels. Take a vote. No one will want to go back to breakfast-skipping!

That breakfast should include a citrus or juice, or a combination that's fascinating. What about grapefruit-pineapple juice with a dash of apricot nectar? Add to this a sausage nest or bacon curls with a poached egg, then a quick cinnamon-raisin roll and a glass of milk or chocolate. Sound good?

BEEF BOURGUIGNON "A La Marinade" can be served with Potatoes Delicieuse, green beans amandine, crusty French rolls, hot slaw in savoy cabbage and fresh fruit.

Haunted House Awaits

By PATRICIA ZINN

For months now the "witches" of the Jolly Rogers Chapter of the Children's Home Society have been standing over boiling cauldrons brewing plans for The Haunted House which opens today and continues through Halloween at the old Coleman School Grand Avenue and Linden Lane in San Rafael.

In anticipation of invading the darkened hallways and corners of the old schoolhouse, the Jolly Roger witches have haunted Marin butcher shops for brains, bones and cow eyes and drugstores for chemicals and test tubes for the Mad Scientist.

AS THE SENIOR witch says, It's amazing how we scrounge." Many brooms were parked outside the Marin Sanitary Service where the witches gathered up old bed springs, suitcases and trunks.

Costuming their spooky friends is a big job for the witches. One group confined to their "Haunts" by small goblins to mind, have stitched 16 costumes.

Also lurking in this year's Haunted House where they are selling refreshments are the witches of the Peter Pan Chapter of the Children's Home Society.

AMONG THE ghoulish surprises boiled up by the witches are Dr. Strangeglove's Laboratory, where the famed Mad Scientist performs prickling experiments, the home of the Purple People Eater, who devours anyone who comes within his reach, and Greenie, who emerges from her Grotto to "visit" the children.

The Haunted House opens its squeaking doors today through Friday from 3 to 9 p.m., Saturday and Sunday from noon to 9 p.m., and on Halloween from 3 to 6 p.m.

HEAD WITCHES include Mesdames Clifford Bunds Jr. and John Colombo, co-chairmen; George Barnwell, stores; Charles Stumpf, staffing; Richard Miller, posters and flyers; Paul Bates, prizes; William Wilson, special effects; Kenneth Howard, costumes and Dietrich Stroeh, publicity.

MOURNING A "loved one" is Mrs. Kenneth Howard, foreground, while Ghost Mrs. Paul Bates expresses her grief. This is the third year the Haunted House has been sponsored by the Jolly Rogers Chapter.

GREENIE, Mrs. Jim Kean, comes out of her "Grotto" to greet a lurking monster. Proceeds from the Haunted House go to the Children's Home Society, an adoption agency.

Women Are Shaping World's Destinies

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — It's been said women will take over the world some day, and this fall they are making a good start at the United Nations.

In flowing Arabic caftans and Indian saris, in bare-knee skirts and chic Chanel suits, 132 members of the fair sex hurry through the U.N. halls as delegates to the 21st session of the General Assembly.

Ten years ago, only 80 delegates attending the 11th session were females. Then 79 countries were U.N. members.

Today U.N. membership has soared to 121 nations, an increase of 53 per cent. The number of females on delegations has jumped 65 per cent. That gives the ladies a net increase in power of 12 per cent during the past decade.

A poll of some of the outstanding women helping shape the world's destinies in the glass-walled U.N. skyscraper indicates they believe they won U.N. positions because of competence, not because of their sex.

"GOOD WOMEN have exactly the same qualities as good men in politics," is the firm opinion of Lady Gaitskell, widow of the late British Labor Party leader, Hugh Gaitskell, and herself a member of Britain's House of Lords.

"The role of women at the U.N. is the same as the role of men. They must do their jobs on merit, not because they are women."

A representative from the U.S. delegation, Mrs. Patricia Harris, the U.S. ambassador to Luxembourg, reflected that "I don't have any view of women just as women."

"Women here at the U.N. have moved to significant positions as competent persons," she said briskly. "They are not women plucked from private life just because they are women, but they are people who are playing significant roles as persons in the community."

THESE PROMINENT women also scorn the plea of some militant feminists that the world would not be in such a disastrous tangle if women ran it.

"Men and women somehow apparently tend to think alike," said Mrs. Harris. "Nothing happened with the appearance of the women's vote — we didn't achieve massive changes.

"But the emancipation of women permitted the emergence of individuals who wish to change the world or that they are smarter or warmer. It's just that as individuals we have a right to be.

"I HAVE NO WISH to say to women: Have careers. All I want is for them to have a freedom of choice. If a woman wants to stay home and have babies, she is no less significant. But she should not be required to stay home if she would be more effective managing an office or on a political platform."

Too Much Help May Halt Development Of Initiative

There are many ways to help your child develop into a successful adult. One way is not to help him. This may sound peculiar, but too many parents fail to give their children an opportunity to develop initiative and responsibility.

An infant needs constant help from his parents. As he grows, he should develop an increasing ability to think and act independently. Too often, parents are unable to accept this change and as a result their children remain overly dependent.

As a child becomes physically and intellectually capable, he should be given increasing responsibilities. A 3-year-old should help put his toys away at the end of the day. By the time he is four, he will probably be able to do it by himself.

DO YOU DO YOUR child's homework for him? Maybe you don't actually do the writing but if you tell him the meaning of every word on which he hesitates, you are doing too much. He should be encouraged to figure out the answers.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Bright Idea Turns Sand Box Into Grill Cleaner, But There's A Cat

DEAR HELEN:

In deer camp we use river sand to scour our frying pans. I got a bright idea and made a small sandbox (with good drainage) in the corner of our back yard. Works fine for cleaning our barbecue grill—we twist it back and forth in the sand until it's scoured bright.

But I forgot one thing: our neighbor's cat. Would fine gravel discourage him? — ALMOST A GENIUS

DEAR ALMOST:

Probably not. But your idea is still a winner.

A near genius like you should be able to figure out a plastic webbing or slat cover which might convert the sandbox into an extra settee.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I was interested in "Hurt's" letter to you, for it sounds like the harassment, received since moving into their home, might be the work of an organized gang.

You won't believe it, but in my town we proved that a shyster real estate man was paying hoodlums $50 a house. That is, the hoods made life miserable for the owners that they sold out cheap—and guess who was right there with a bid? The realtor, of course. He later left town in a hurry.

Maybe he has turned up in "Hurt's" community. Tell her to investigate.—N.W.

DEAR HELEN:

Do I have the right to ask my husband where he is going when he goes out at night without me? He says it is none of my business. — WIFE WHO CARES

DEAR WIFE:

You have the right to know, but you shouldn't have to ASK. A man is the protector of his wife and family. Therefore it is his duty to tell them where he can be reached in case of an emergency. New husbands sometimes balk att his, but they come around if wives expect, and don't nag.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

Our neighbor has dogs which sometimes he feeds and sometimes he doesn't. He has shot and killed other dogs that come around his yard, and now he has threatened to shoot the kids in the neighborhood. He doesn't have a gun permit. What should we do?—K.R.

DEAR K:

I hope you have called the sheriff long before this letter reaches print!—H.

DEAR HELEN:

In answer to "Mad Mother" and "Waiting Wife" who talks of air-mailing APO-San Francisco letters to their men in Viet Nam: I also have a son over there.

All mail going APO San Francisco goes air mail, even in a plain envelope with a five cent stamp.—C.A.C.

DEAR C:

I wouldn't be too sure. Our local post office informs me that airmail rates are required for APO airmail, but at eight cents you're still getting a bargain. Ordinarily, air mail to the Far East is 25 cents a half ounce.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

My husband takes me out almost every weekend. But every Thursday night, when he gets paid, he goes out with the boys. I ask him if I can go out with my girl friend once a week, and he says "No." If he can, why can't I?—CONFUSED

DEAR CON:

Don't push your luck. Maybe your husband doesn't approve of your girl friend. (You might try compromise with a Thursday-night mixed card party).—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Art Festival Will Consider New Location

Directors of the Mill Valley Fall Arts Festival Assn. agreed Monday to appoint a site committee to screen proposals to move the festival to a new location.

Association president John T. Little said the committee would be appointed within a few weeks.

More than 30 persons attended the membership meeting, he said. Suggestions for other locations of the festival, held in Boyle Park the past two years, include the city golf course, Lytton Square, Tamalpais High School, Project 17, and Old Mill Park, Little said.

Originally held 10 years ago in Lytton Square, the festival was in Old Mill Park for several years before moving to Boyle Park.

Officers Being Graduated Fast For Viet Duty

WASHINGTON (AP) — Four maritime academies are advancing graduation dates for young officers to help meet Viet Nam supply requirements.

Acting Maritime Administrator James W. Gulick said yesterday that 348 officers will be graduated from two to six months ahead of schedule to help man ships carrying supplies to the war area.

Some 207 men will be graduated Feb. 10 from the U. S. Marine Academy at Kings Point, N.Y., six months ahead of time. Texas Maritime Academy will send out 18 men in February instead of June.

Massachusetts Maritime Academy is moving 50 men up to March graduation, three months early, and California Maritime Commission has scheduled 73 officers for May graduation, two months ahead of schedule.

Annual Christmas Bazaar Announced

The Stinson Beach Allied Arts will hold its annual Christmas dinner and bazaar Nov. 18, 19 and 20 at the Stinson Beach Community Center.

Re-Subdivision Approved For Peacock Gap Parcels

The San Rafael Planning Commission last night gave provisional approval to a Peacock Gap unit re-subdivision map.

The tentative map calls for re-subdividing of two lots in the Knoll area, along Biscayne Drive east of the Peacock Gap club house. Commissioners gave approval with the stipulation that streets in the tentative map area remain private and not be accepted into the San Rafael city system.

Acting Planner Charles J. Linthicum said the streets do not come up to city specifications in usable road width.

Douglas M. Christensen, owner and subdivider, said he would have to abandon the condeminium plan for the lots and procede on a lot-by-lot building schedule because of the current tight money market.

The San Rafael Planning Commission also:

1. Unanimously approved Mission Pak request for temporary location of a trailer at end of Northgate shopping mall during November and December.

2. Approved several advertising signs.

Prop. 16 Will Be Aired On Radio

Prop. 16, the "clean" anti-obsenity measure on the Nov. 8 ballot, will be discussed tomorrow on the Radio KTIM program "Marin Sounding Board" at 9 a.m.

Speaking in favor of the initiative will be Clifford A. Gerstner of Greenbrae and Mrs. Paul A. Hammer of San Anselmo. Against the proposition will be Rev. Wesley C. Baker of the First Presbyterian Church of San Rafael and attorney Thomas A. Skornia of Ross. Moderator will be Kitty Oppenheimer.

The speakers will answer telephoned questions from listeners. A recording of the program will be broadcast Sunday at 12:30 p.m.

New Concept Urged In Drugs Abuse Fight

Assemblyman Pearce Young, chairman of the Assembly Committee on Criminal Procedure, today called for a new concept of state-private cooperation in the battle against narcotics and dangerous drugs.

Young outlined his program before an attorney general's conference on "Drug Abuse and the Student Community" in San Francisco. His committee is engaged in a major study of the drug traffic.

Young referred to his proposals as a preview of recommendations which his committee may submit to the Legislature next January.

He said that while the use of hard-core narcotics like heroin has declined, the use of dangerous drugs by youth has greatly increased.

Young urged state programs of inpatient and outpatient treatment for users of dangerous drugs, greater cooperation between state agencies and private organizations concerned with drug problems, and extensive studies of the patterns of drug use by youth.

He suggested a further review of laws designed to control drug abuse, and new programs to educate the public on drug hazards, and increased law enforcement against peddlers of dangerous drugs.

He called for better understanding of the social conditions which cause people to misuse drugs.

Marinite's Son Will Fight Pox

Warren R. Jones, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Jones of San Rafael, has accepted a two-year appointment in Nigeria with a U.S.-sponsored smallpox eradication project for West Africa.

Jones, whose wife and small son will accompany him to Bonin City, the capital of midwestern Nigeria, has been a program representative and instructor with the U.S. Public Health Service in Georgia and Washington for two years.

A native of Salt Lake City, he received his bachelor and master degrees at Brigham Young University.

The new American project is in support of the World Health Organization's program to eradicate smallpox world-wide in the next ten years. An estimated 150 million vaccinations will be performed during the five-year course of the West African project and 30 million children will be vaccinated against measles. Funds come from the Agency for International Development.

Houlihan Taken To Vacaville

OAKLAND (AP) — John C. Houlihan, former Oakland mayor, who pleaded guilty of grand theft, was taken to the California Medical Facility at Vacaville yesterday for a diagnostic study.

The study will determine whether Houlihan goes to prison or is placed on probation.

Houlihan, an attorney, pleaded guilty of taking $140,000 from an estate.

World's Biggest Power Station Given Approval

MONTREAL, Canada (SS) — The green light has finally been given to the development of the world's largest hydroelectric power site at Churchill Falls in Labrador (formerly Hamilton Falls) with signing of an agreement between the Province of Quebec and Brinco, international developers of the British Newfoundland Corp.

The development will eventually result in a power generating complex capable of delivering six million horsepower, with an ultimate capacity of 10 million horsepower.

The largest U.S. installations are at Niagra Falls and Grand Coulee Dam, each of which develops about 2.5 million horsepower. Grand Coulee has the ultimate capacity for about one million horsepower more.

The biggest power stations in the Soviet Union are in the 4.5-5 million horsepower range.

Housewife Burned

Mrs. Rita Nolan of 50 Country Club Drive, Mill Valley, was treated Monday at Marin General Hospital for a burned right hand suffered when she tried to restart a pilot light on her water heater.

High Share Of Road Fund Claimed

Marin County gets considerably more than its share of state funds for highway improvements, State Sen. John F. McCarthy disclosed in a speech before the Novato Kiwanis Club yesterday noon at Nave Lanes.

A Division of Highways report shows that over the past two decades, Marin has been getting 125 per cent more than its minimum needs for improvement of roadways, said McCarthy.

"This report should dispose, once and for all, of one of the wild statements being circulated in this campaign," he declared.

Senator McCarthy, who has represented Marin in the upper house for the last 16 years, is running for re-election in the expanded senatorial district that now includes Marin, Napa and Solano.

McCarthy made the statements in reply to recent charges by his opponent that Marin had been "short-changed" in highway funds.

Health Policy Draws Outcry By Psychiatrist

Psychiatrist Dr. Joseph Gustadt, in a letter to county supervisors, has raised hot exception to chairman Byron W. Leydecker's statements in regard to county mental health services last week.

Gustadt and two other doctors wrote the board urging caution in any change in the community mental health services. He said the letter was "answered with ridicule" and with the charge by Leydecker that the doctors were looking "for bogey men under the bed."

Gustadt urged that supervisors follow the recommendation of the community health advisory board or else disband the board and consider a "plus year course in psychiatry."

San Francisco Lists Sharp Crime Increase

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Crime of all kinds increased in San Francisco by 16 per cent in September, compared to the same month of 1965. The police department said the worst increase was in robberies, up 47 per cent.

Police Chief Thomas Cahill blamed the increase on the economic situation and "recent court decisions which restrict police officers from questioning persons in cars or on the streets."

GOLDEN WEDDING—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Kelly of San Rafael look at the guest list from one of the parties given to celebrate their 50 years of marriage.

Wife Fondly Recalls How Tardiness Paid

By PAT PERRY

It's more than 50 years later, but Marie Kelly still remembers when she was a bookkeeper in a hay and grain firm in Hershey, Neb.

"If I didn't have the bills ready for shipping, the young man from the railroad had to come and pick them up," she reminisced yesterday. "I won't say how often I didn't get the bills ready."

The young man from the railroad was Thomas Kelly.

Yesterday the Kellys celebrated their golden wedding at their home at 153 Picnic Avenue, San Rafael. They were wed Oct. 25, 1916, in Hershey.

Kelly retired in 1962 after 53 years as a railroad man, most of them as a telegrapher. He's 73.

"When I started with the railroad in Nebraska there was a minimum age limit of 21. I was 21 for years and years. In the end I had to send home for my birth certificate because I'd forgotten how old I really was."

The Kellys reared seven sons and a daughter. Malcolm lives in Los Angeles, Gene in Santa Venetia, William in Walnut Creek, Boyd in San Francisco, Richard in Denver, Colo., Jim and Bob and Mrs. June Antonio all in Novato. There are 22 grandchildren, too.

The Kellys lived in North Platte, Neb., for 20 years, then in Salt Lake City and Ogden, Utah, moving to Marin County in 1947.

The move to California was a long time coming. "In 1918 I met another railroad man from California who told me anyone who'd work in snow all winter was dumb," said Kelly. "Thirty years later I had to agree."

He is a member of Marin Lodge 191, Free and Accepted Masons, San Rafael Chapter 215 of Eastern Star, the Presbyterian Church, and the Redwood Empire Railroad Club. He's visiting chairman for the freemasons and spends much of his time visiting members in the hospital.

Marie Kelly accompanies him, for both enjoy traveling. Any spare time she devotes to her two hobbies—collecting pencils and driftwood.

There are more than 3,000 different pencils stacked in boxes inside the home, and hundreds of strange-shaped pieces of driftwood stacked in the backyard. She began collecting pencils more than 50 years ago when her father, a traveler for International Harvester Co., used to give away advertising pencils to hardware stores.

Most of the pencils carry advertising—from Switzerland to San Rafael. It's not an unusual hobby, exidently. Each year when the Kellys go East on vacation, they pick up a handful of advertising pencils from the Redwood National Bank in San Rafael and trade them with other train passengers en route to Nebraska. Friends bring Mrs. Kelly additions to her collection when they travel abroad.

MARIN'S POVERTY WAR DESTITUTE?

County Aide Says Economic Opportunity Council Has Not Provided Payroll Cash

The War on Poverty is out of funds to meet its payroll in Marin County.

At least, that's what Asst. County Administrator Thomas F. Campanella told county supervisors yesterday. He said pay for the War on Poverty workers may be held up beyond Monday's pay day, because the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council has not turned over any money.

The council — or those members whose appointments have been ratified as meeting federal requirements — is to meet at 8 p.m. today at St. Andrew Presbyterian Church in Marin City.

The county has a contract with the council to handle the bookkeeping and payroll. But, Campanella said today, the country cannot put up public funds to pay the salaries of the council's employees.

The council's temporary chairman, Arthur Brown said "This can't be. I understood there's still money from last year's funds. There should be money in the Federal Reserve Bank. This is certainly something we'll take up tonight."

Brown was unable to suggest anyone on the council in charge of the money who might know where it was if it did exist, nor how much it might amount to.

There was, however, no threat to the long-run continuity of the War on Poverty in Marin County, since a steady flow of funds can be expected from the federal Office of Economic Opportunity, which set up the table of organiation for the local council.

Finding the right people to meet federal requirements for membership on the board has been a knotty problem for some time now, since the board of supervisors has been uncertain as to who or what it is supposed to appoint.

Five of the 12 appointees to which it is entitled have been rejected for such reasons as not having a Spanish surname, a requirement of at least one appointee, or not meeting the necessity of representing a church or the business community.

Some of this confusion may be clarified tonight when a representative of the Office of Economic Opportunity appears before the council to explain the federal guidelines for membership on the board.

It is not expected, however, that the five vacancies will be filled tonight, as a meeting between the council and the supervisors will be necessary to pass on this information on guidelines.

In the meantime, it will not be possible for the incomplete board to elect officers — such as a treasurer to keep track of funds, their existence, amount and location.

Novato Homecoming Plan Gets Permit From Council

Novato High School will have its first homecoming parade in its history down South Novato Boulevard and Arthur Street to the high school at 10 a.m. Nov. 5.

Permission for the parade was granted by the Novato City Council last night by 4 to 0 vote, with Douglas M. Merrill absent.

The parade will form at Diablo Avenue and South Novato Boulevard, and proceed down the southbound lane of South Novato Boulevard.

The Novato City Council Also:

1. Authorized a more adequate pedestrian area along the east shoulder of Seventh Street between Marion and Vallejo Avenues for school children.

2. Authorized the Poplar Terrace Neighborhood Improvement Assn. to construct a school bus shelter on Manuel Drive in the street right of way.

3. Authorized Lawrence A. Coleman, director of public works, to proceed with getting a commuter parking lot on the Highway 37 interchange. Coleman had reported that the state division of highways said such areas were in use elsewhere and could be used under certain conditions, one of which was that access be only on frontage roads.

4. Passed ordinances bringing up to date the electrical code and changing the fire zoning in the downtown area.

5. Ordered preparation of a resolution to abate as a nuisance a substandard house at 648 Hancock Street, owned by Jack Caristi.

6. Introduced an ordinance amending the animal control ordinance. This is identical to the Marin County ordinance which changed the fee schedule.

7. Received the 1965-66 audit from Wolf and Co. of San Rafael. The audit proposed that revenue and expense accounts agree with fund balances, that employee benefit expenses be segregated from the general insurance expnse, and that budget revisions directed by the council be shown in the accounting.

8. Authorized the mayor to name a five-man committee to help draw up standards for cable television licenses.

9. Denied a claim by Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Niebur of 1426 Cambridge for $25,000 damages for an injury allegedly suffered by their son, Kenneth, at a city sponsored recreation program July 20 at Rancho School playground.

10. Endorsed three state propositions on the Nov. 8 ballot: 1-A, which provides for annual legislative sessions and makes other procedural revisions in the state constitution; 1, which permits public retirement funds investment in comon stocks, and 3, authorizing the legislature to specify open space lands for reduced taxation.

11. Adjourned to 8 p.m., Nov. 15, postponing the Nov. 8 meeting by one week because of the election that day.

United States shrimp imports (fresh, frozen, canned and dried) from all sources in June 1966 totaled 14.2 million pounds compared to 13.1 million for June 1965.

Landlord Is Denied Permit For Repairs

The Larkspur Planning Commission last night denied Ronald D. Clark's request for permission to repair his apartment building at 203-205 Hawthorne Avenue.

The building, a non-conforming use in a residential zone, suffered more than 50 per cent fire damage in July. Clark said he would appeal to the city council.

The commission denied Mrs. William J. Schisler's request for a permit for a day care nursery at her home, 102 Elm Street.

It recommended to the council that part of the Niven Nursery on Doherty Drive be rezoned from residential to light industrial to conform with zoning for the rest of the nursery.

The commission approved plans for a parking lot at the California State Automoblie Assn. building at 565 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, Greenbrae.

The commission adjourned to Nov 9, when it will meet with the city council.

Accidental poisonings in the United States during 1965 increased by 14 per cent over 1964 with a total of 71,627 cases compared to 62,728.

Merger Plans Announced By Northwestern Savings

Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. of San Rafael will change its name for the second time in its 43-year history if a proposal to merge with Fidelity Savings and Loan Assn. of Berkeley is approved by the stockholders.

The proposed merger, which was announced jointly today by A. C. Meyer Jr., president of Fidelity Savings and Loan, and Mrs. Esther M. Dearth, executive vice president of Northwestern Savings and Loan, would involve acceptance of Fidelity's offer of approximately $2.5 million for Northwestern's stock. Northwestern shareholders would have the choice of accepting Fidelity stock, debentures or cash.

The proposal, already approved by directors of both companies, will be submitted at a meeting of Northwestern stockholders on Nov. 28, Mrs. Dearth said. The merger is also subject to approval of Fidelity stockholders and of federal and state regularory bodies.

The combined association under the name of Fidelity Savings and Loan would be one of the largest locally owned and managed independent savings and loan institution in the Bay Area, with nine offices. Fidelity, headquartered in Berkeley, has branches in Oakland, San Francisco, Concord, and Stockton. Northwestern has offices in San Rafael and Mill Valley.

Fidelity is the oldest state chartered association in the East Bay, established in 1921. When the merger is completed, the combined assets of the two organizations will be in excess of $260 million. Northwestern assets are now approximately $50 million.

Mrs. Dearth said she will retain her vice presidency and become a director in the new company, and that her son, Kevin, will also continue as a vice president. Her husband, R. Keith Dearth, president of Northwestern, is planning to retire, on the recommendation of his physician.

T. H. Borla, a director of Northwestern since 1951, is expected to become active in the company as vice president in charge of personnel.

The Marin association was founded in 1923 under the name of Northwest Building and Loan Assn. by a group of Northwestern Pacific Railroad men headed by the storekeeper, Alan W. Dayton. The original office was in Tiburon. Ten years later it was moved to Sausalito.

In 1943 Northwestern absorbed Tamalpais Building and Loan Assn. and two years later the name was changed to the present Northwestern Savings and Loan Assn. Headquarters were established in San Rafael in 1953 and the present building at Fifth and B Street was completed in 1958.

Mrs. Dearth joined the firm in 1943 as a bookkeeper, becoming its first full-time employee. Her husband joined the association in 1946 as the first manager of the branch office in Mill Valley. They became executive vice president and president, respectively, approximately 10 years ago, following the death of O. E. Lovett, who had been president.

Shotguns, Watches Taken From House

San Rafael police reported that five shotguns and two men's wrist watches were among items reported from a residence at 5 Marina Way yesterday.

Gary R. Frugoli, who lives at the address, told police he found the latch to a rear sliding glass door broken and the contents of two bedrooms strewn on the floor.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Oct. 26, the 299th day of 1966 with 66 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

American gospel singer Mahalia Jackson was born on this day in 1912.

On this day in history:

In 1825, the Erie Canal, first of the great man-made waterways in the United States, was opened for traffic.

In 1920, Terence MacSwiney, Lord Mayor of Cork, died after fasting for 75 days in a prison cell demanding independence for Ireland.

In 1942, the Japanese sank the American aircraft carrier Hornet after a savage engagement off the Solomon Islands.

In 1951, Rocky Maricano knocked out former heavyweight champion Joe Louis in Madison Square Garden.

A thought for the day—Norwegian dramatish Henrik Ibsen said: "A community is like a ship: everyone ought to be prepared to take the helm."

TIME AND TIDE

Department of Commerce, United States Coast Geodetic Survey, Western District headquarters. Times and heights of tides at San Francisco (Golden Gate):

The column of heights gives the elevation in feet of each tide above or below the plane of Coast Survey chart soundings. The depths are always additive to the chart depths unless preceded by a minus sign (-), when the numbers are subtracted from the depth given in the chart. Light-face type indicates a.m. times; bold-face type indicates p.m. times.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Sometimes Rules Must Be Broken To Aid Your Cause

When you are defending you usually avoid leading a suit that dummy can ruff because that does declarer's work for him.

As a rule, you lead some other suit and let declarer do his own work, but there are times when you must break this rule.

No. 3069 .....Oct. 26, 1966

Opening lead — ♡ 2

TRUMP LEAD

East won the first trick with the ace of hearts and returned a trump because all of the side suits looked bad.

Still, the trump return helped declarer more than the defenders.

South won with the queen of trumps and held the next trick with the jack of trumps.

He then shifted to clubs, forcing out the ace on the second round of that suit.

TOO LATE

East switched back to hearts, but it was too late. South took the king of hearts, led a trump to the ace, and discarded his last heart on a high club.

Then he could afford to lose a diamond.

CLEAR BIDDING

The bidding makes it clear that West has limited strength, and East should play for a trump trick as his best chance.

East can hardly hope for a trump trick if he leads trumps but may promote a trick for his partner if he returns a heart.

Declarer cannot afford to ruff the heart in dummy, since then he would lose a trump trick. South should take the king of hearts and lead the queen of spades for a finesse.

When that holds, South leads a low trump to dummy's nine and then leads the queen of diamonds for a finesse.

West wins and leads a third heart, forcing dummy to ruff. Now West gets a trump trick, and South loses a trick, and South loses a trick in each suit.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one heart and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ A 9 8
♥ 7
♦ Q J 10 9 4
♣ K Q J 7.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds. You plan to show the clubs next, suggesting game (or slam) in a minor suit. If partner tries for game in notrump, you will have no objection.

Electrical Currents Aid Tree Growth

NEW YORK (UPI) —Engineers are making a citrus fruit tree grow faster by plugging electric current into it.

Researchers have found that trees have their own electrical potential which helps them grow. This potential is measured by a Leeds & Northrup potentiometer. To the tree's own potential are added minute amounts of electricity from an outside source. Done properly, this stimulates growth of the tree and its fruit.

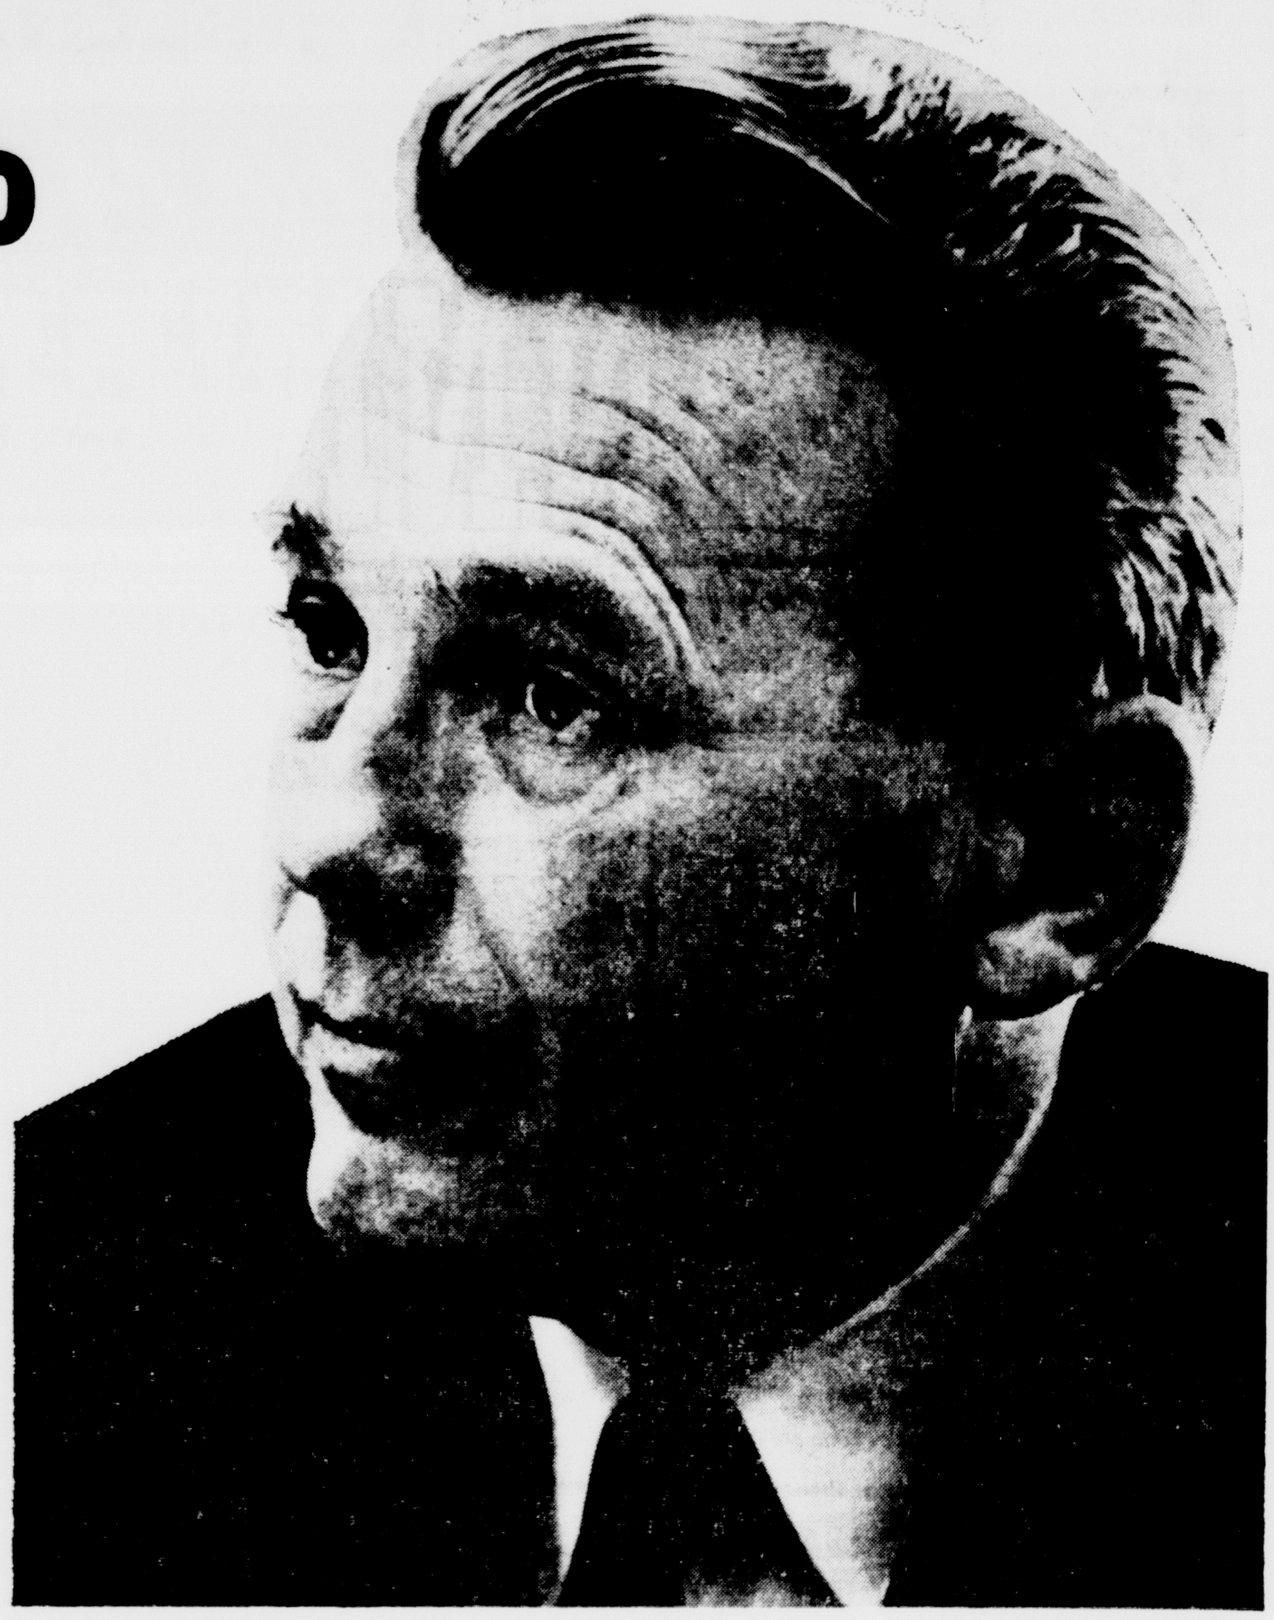
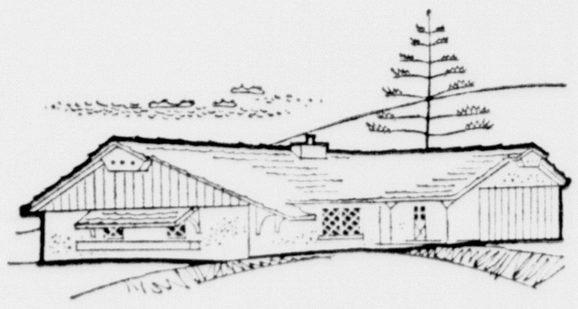
Why are taxes so high in Marin?

PEARCE YOUNG SPEAKS OUT!

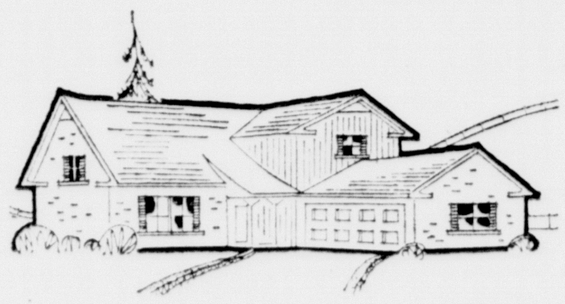


"Marin County has the second highest real property tax rate in California.
"60.6% of that goes to finance education.
"Marin County school taxes have gone up 259% in the last ten years.
"That's the situation today. I intend to do something about it.
"Education is everyone's responsibility, not just the responsibility of those who happen to own real property. Therefore, I believe that eventually real property taxes should be eliminated as a source of financing for public education.
"This cannot be accomplished overnight. But we can make a start now, and that is what I propose to do. If I am elected to the California Senate, my first official act will be to introduce a Senate Bill to reduce the amount of real property tax used to finance public education by 50%."

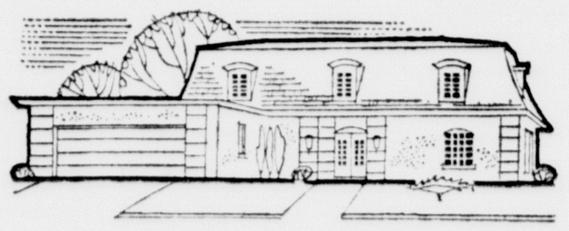
This is what it will mean to you:



If you own a $35,000 home in Marinwood, you now pay $894 in real property taxes. Under my proposal you would pay $563— A SAVING TO YOU OF $331.



If you own a $35,000 home in Mill Valley, you now pay $893 in real property taxes. Under my proposal you would pay $595— a saving to you of $298.



If you own a $35,000 home in San Rafael, you now pay $789 in real property taxes. Under my proposal you would pay $492— a saving to you of $297.

Let's be realistic. The funds for public education must come from somewhere. But they should not – and need not – come only from the property owners of Marin County. The financial responsibility of public education should be distributed more equally among all of the citizens of the state. And it can be, by utilizing the existing tax structure in a fair and equitable way. I've had my say. On November 8 you will have yours. Thanks for listening.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Make Halloween Safe And Happy One For Youngsters

VAN DELLEN

Halloween is a big night for the small fry. Adult drivers should slow down and drive with extra caution. Many tots are so excited they run across the streets without looking to the right and left. Furthermore they are difficult to spot, especially when wearing dark clothing and masks. Pre-schoolers should always be under the watchful eye of a parent.

The destructive vandalism of generations ago is passe. Teenagers will do their contemporaries a favor by acting like sober adults for a few hours. Keep pets, especially dogs, in the house and leave the porch light burning for the safety of all concerned. Avoid getting the reputation of the neighborhood grouch by putting away lawn furniture, garden tools, trash cans and anything else that can be turned over or hauled away.

IF THERE IS a tyke in your household who is looking forward to "trick or treating" make it as safe as possible for him. Light-colored costumes and those decorated with reflector tape are more easily seen by motorists.

Make-up is a good substitute for masks and does not hinder vision. Paint the face with a mixture of cold cream, vegetable dye, mascara, or rouge. A false face also can be made with eyebrow pencil, grease paint, or burnt cork.

HALLOWEEN COSTUMES can be flameproofed by dipping the garments into three quarts of warm water, seven ounces of borax, and three ounces of boric acid. Flimsy materials, baggy sleeves, and billowy skirts are fire hazards. Tell the youngsters to stay away from bonfires, lighted matches and cigarettes, fireplaces, and stoves. Almost any cloth, flameproofed or not, will burn to some extent.

Give the children at the door the same "treat" you want your own youngsters to receive. Prepackaged candy is available. Small children are not greedy and are easily satisfied.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the Independent-Journal.)

DIABETES TYPES

H. L. S. writes: What is the difference between potential diabetes and active diabetes?

REPLY

There are many types of active diabetes. The juvenile type is controled with insulin; the kind that develops later is controled with anti-diabetic pills. Most geneticists believe that all forms are the same and are due to an hereditary factor. Potential diabetes is a tendency to become diabetic.

TENDERIZERS IN COOKING

Mrs. F. writes: My husband thinks it is harmful to use meat tenderizers in cooking. Do you think so?

REPLY

No, and I'm certain the cooking editor will agree with me. If these substances were poisonous there would be lots of sick people around. However, they should not be used on decaying meat.

ANEMIA IN PREGNANCY

Mrs. K. writes: Does pregnancy cause anemia?

REPLY

Yes, provided the woman bleeds or does not eat a balanced diet.

Today's Health Hint — Everyone has some degree of anxiety.

BALLOONS CHECK AIR CURRENTS FOR POLLUTION

Seventh graders at Davidson Junior High School in San Rafael yesterday released 20 balloons in an experiment to track air currents which control air pollution concentration over Marin. Milton Feldstein of Marinwood, chief of laboratory services for the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District, explained the increasing threat to health from polluted air. Cards on the balloons, provided by Marin Tuberculosis and Health Assn., will be returned to the Air Pollution Control Assn. in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Jury Clears Parents In Child Neglect Case

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rowe, both Sacramento school teachers, have been found innocent of child neglect involving Rowe's daughter, Mary, 13.

The couple was arrested on felony charges last summer. The girl told the court that she was forced to live in the attic and not allowed to eat with the family.

The Rowes said Mary decided herself to sleep in the attic so she could be alone.

"We're grateful," the couple said after the superior court jury reached a verdict yesterday following three hours' deliberation.

The girl remains with relatives in Eureka under the jurisdiction of Juvenile Court.

Attorneys for both sides said in their closing arguments that the credibility of witnesses was the key to the jury's consideration of the case.

Mrs. Rowe said she married Mary's father last year and soon after the girl "not only refused to do what I asked her, but questioned my authority to discipline her."

Mrs. Rowe has a son, Teddy, 7.

Rowe told the court he would often have to bring Mary bodily to meals. He said he told Mary to be home from school by 4 p.m. or he would lock her out for 30 minutes.

Neighbors testified they often saw Mary sitting on the Rowes' front lawn late in the afternoon locked out.

Burglars Take Auto Radiators

Burglars took 13 new automobile radiators from Griese Radiator Repair Service, 710 Francisco Boulevard, California Park, sheriff's officers said today.

Deputies said entry was by kicking out a rear door panel and reaching through to remove a bar. The bar was later found in a nearby field.

G. J. Elkington and Sons, contractors, 130 Curry Lane, Sausalito, reported a saw attachment and a drill were taken from a building under construction at Hiden Valley School, Sleepy Hollow.

Burglars also slipped a door lock at Deer Park School on Porteous Avenue, Fairfax, making off with two books from a classroom.

NAMED AIRMAN—A/3C Delores M. Ballard, an X-ray specialist at the 78th Air Force Hospital, was named Airman of the Month at Hamilton Air Force Base. She is only the third Woman Air Force member to receive this honor at the base.

Vandalism Report

Dr. William S. Neal told San Rafael police yesterday that a garden hose at a medical building at 11 Professional Center Parkway had been slashed into small pieces and identification letters on the building's sign knocked off sometime Monday night.

School Officials Listen To Weird Perils Of LSD

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—An audience of school officials sat spellbound yesterday while doctors and law enforcement officers gave graphic examples of the dangers of LSD.

Two UCLA psychiatrists, Dr. J. Thomas Ungerleider and Dr. Duke D. Fisher, told of weird side effects of the drug.

One described a user "who thought he was an orange and if anyone touched him he would turn into orange juice."

There was also a user who was "so blissful he wanted to merge himself with the traffic on Wilshire Boulevard." He did — and was killed.

The UCLA doctors warned the attorney general's conference on "drug abuse and the student community" that acute side-effects from the drug are wholly unpredictable.

"A bad experience can come with the first use of LSD or it can occur on the 60th trip after 59 good trips," they said.

Lt. Darrell Hickman of the Berkeley Police Department said:

"We find people in the middle of the street completely out of their minds, incoherent, rambling, prone to violence toward themselves.

"Setting fires is popular. One user threw a match in a wastebasket and then stuck his hands in the flames. He said they represented the fires of hell."

Atty. Gen. Thomas Lynch opened the conference yesterday with a speech in which he said "the current uncontrolled use of drugs among students poses a threat to the physical and mental health of the student community."

Library Plans Special Events

Mill Valey library will mark Children's Book Week, Oct. 31 to Nov. 5 with a film and story hours.

"The Lively Art of Picture Books," aimed at parents interested in books for young children, will be shown Tuesday at 4 and 8 p.m. Cynthia Gallup, librarian at Old Mill and Marin Terrace Schools, will tell stories for school-age children at 4 p.m. on Nov. 3.

Edith and Clement Hurd, Mill Valley author-illustrator team, will tell how their story, "The So So Cat," came to be on Nov. 4 at 4 p.m. Mrs. Mae Durham, teacher of children's literature in the school of librarianship at the University of California, will tell stories for school-age children Nov. 5 at 11 a.m.

Premature Babies Due New Cradle

Special to the I-J

LOS ANGELES—A clear plastic cradle canopy with a transparent radiant heating unit controlled by a unique thermostat —the baby's skin—may help tide premature infants over a critical period.

The canopied cradle serves as an open-ended incubator. The radiant heating unit is controlled by a device attached to the baby's skin.

Drs. Forrest Adams, Frederick Friedman and George Emmanouilides of the UCLA Medical School studied regulation of premature infants' body temperatures with the device. Premature babies have problems with temperature regulation.

Twelve premature infants were studied at several different temperature control settings. It was found that the babies appeared most comfortable and were least active when kept at slightly above 98 degrees F. (adult normal temperature).

Several studies have indicated that the survival rate of premature infants is greater for those kept in warmer environments and at body temperatures near adult levels, Dr. Adams points out. Other studies have suggested that body temperature can be better controlled by low-energy infrared radiation, than by warming the air as is done in standard incubators.

While the new device appears effective in regulating body temperature, more studies are needed to determine the effects of such an environment on the mortality rate of premature infants, he adds.

The open ended arrangement made possible by the canopy affords more convenient access for infant care.

Standard incubators are closed to increase oxygen and humidity. The current trend is away from oxygen use except in respiratory emergencies, Dr. Adams points out.

It is probably better to give oxygen via a special hood when high concentrations are needed, he says. Increased humidity is seldom required in treatment of premature babies.

Neck Sprained

John Roach, 31, of 22D Fairfax Street, San Rafael, was treated at Marin General Hospital last night for a neck sprain suffered during an auto accident in Oakland that afternoon.

Wiring grizzlies for sound in Yellowstone National Park has enabled scientists to learn life-and-death details of an entire grizzly population.

Coast Water Seekers Test New Strategy

West Marin residents who waited more than a year to get action on a petition to annex the area to Marin Municipal Water Districts have switched tactics to attempt annexation to the North Marin County Water District.

Petitions requesting the annexation are to be circulated in Point Reyes Station, Olema, Inverness, and Inverness Park. They will be forwarded to the Local Agency Formation Commission.

The West Marin area—which in August accused MMWD of dragging its heels on an 18-month-old annexation request—is not in North Marin district's future service area set out in a joint statement of policy drawn up between the county's two water districts last year.

The North Marin district will consider the annexation, said general manager Jerome C. Gilbert, "but MMWD would have to agree first."

If the annexation is approved by MMWD and LAFC, said Gilbert, the northern water district would probably supply both water and sewer services, since the formation of new sanitary districts is not welcomed by governmental agencies.

William R. Seeger, general manager of MMWD, wrote to Dr. Leslie Webber, who has spearheaded West Marin's water drive, on Sept. 23 detailing annexation procedure for the Point Reyes Station area.

He suggested local residents collect $10,000 to "show good faith" to get planning started. He indicated it would take six months to get annexation procedure accomplished, a further six months to prepare a $10,000 detailed report or master plan, and then one year to implement the installation through an improvement district.

MMWD's annexation fee was set at $6.73 per $100 of current assessed valuation in September.

This means that while it would cost Marincello developers some $55,000 to get their project into MMWD, it would cost an individual West Marin homeowner with a $25,000 home nearly $400 just to get into the district before he came into the improvement district.

Dr. Webber, a Point Reyes Station physician, said a meeting is to be held in West Marin on Nov. 7 to work out final details of the North Marin annexation campaign.

Seeger is in Los Angeles at a convention and could not be reached to determine MMWD's reaction to the switch.

Youth Authortiy Bills Run High

Charges against Marin by the California Youth Authority for care of juveniles referred to the authority by Marin judges are running higher than expected, County Probation Officer Walter Busher told supervisors yesterday.

One reason is that greater use is being made of the maximum 90-day referral to the authority for observation of youths, he said.

There was $3,500 budgeted for the CYA charges this year. Busher said $4,500 more will be needed. Supervisors approved transfer of that sum from the contingency reserve.

Merchants Pick Decor For Yule

San Rafael Fourth Street merchants yesterday approved a Christmas decoration plan that will see light standards from Lincoln Avenue to E Street decorated with double scrolls of colored garlands and a red star facing two sides.

Decorations will be up by the downtown San Rafael pre-Christmas night opening on Nov. 30. Small streamers made of Christmas-colored material will be stretched diagonally across Fourth Street from the light standards.

The cost per merchant for decorations will be based on front footage of each store.

Legal Notice Causes Confusion Of Names

William Herman Rankin of 37 Sunview Avenue, San Anselmo, today asked that it be made clear that he is not the William H. Rankin who inserted a non-responsibility notice in the Independent-Journal Monday.

The San Anselmo William H. Rankin declared, "I have been happily married 25 years and certainly do not want to do anything to damage my credit rating or my wife's credit rating."

Marin City Officials Confirm Club Leasing

Marin City Community Services District directors last night formally approved leasing the former maintenance building at 640 Drake Avenue to the Boys Club of Southern Marin for $1 a year.

The club leased the building last spring, but the action had not been formally approved, explained Gabe Jackson, secretary-treasurer of the district board.

TV REVIEW

What Next? 'Live' War Telecasts

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) —It has long been a comment of many television people that the rapid expensaion of satellite communications will someday make it possible to watch a war "live" in one's home.

With the imminent launching of a Pacific satellite, scheduled for today, the predictions suddenly become immediate as many viewers wonder whether the near future will actually find "live" video broadcasts of the Viet Nam war beamed directly into American homes.

After all, a guest speaker recently told a radio-television meeting in Chicago: "It is not too far in the future that the so-called 'armchair strategist' will be able to watch a war actually being fought from his chair in the living room"—depending upon "whether or not society is ready for it."

And a network told the meeting "live coverage from the battlfeidls of Viet Nam will be a technical possibility" within a year.

Predictably, the black humor satires soon began to appear along with the obvious wisecracks. And some distraught parents of boys serving in Viet Nam have wondered whether they would have to face the ordeal of possibly seeing their sons killed before their eyes.

What, actually, does this latest satellite development mean? How will the television Viet Nam coverage be affected?

According to William R. McAndrew, president of NBC News, the editing process—a critical factor often overlooked because of television's frequent use of the word "live"—should allay many fears.

For "live" in television often refers in reality to "live-on-tape" material which is subject to scrutiny, discussion, handling and editing before it gets on the airwaves. This, says McAndrew, is the general situation in the case at hand.

WORLD AMATEUR TEAM GOLF

.06 Of Inch Might Be The Difference

By WILL GRIMSLEY

MEXICO CITY (AP) — It amounts to only 6-100ths of an inch, but this difference in the size of golf balls may be a major factor in deciding the winner this weekend in the Eisenhower Trophy matches for the world amateur team championship.

The defending champion British team will stay with the smaller British ball while its stoutest challengers, the United States and Canada, will play the bigger pellet used on this side of the Atlantic.

The strong South African contingent is split. Bobby Cole, the 18-year-old British Amateur titleholder, will play the bigger American ball. The rest of his teammates go with the smaller one.

In international competition, you can take your choice.

"You may be able to fly the small ball farther off the tee but you can't finesse it as well around the greens," said Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md., senior member of the American squad.

Young Cole, who has played both, agrees. "I don't think the distance gained makes that much difference in the light Mexico City air," he said. "The bigger ball holds the line better on these slow, stubby greens."

Amateur golfers from 29 nations — representing the best in the world—tee off time tomorrow over the 7,125-yard par 72, Club de Golf Mexico course, the longest over which an international match has ever been played.

Four teams — Britain, Canada, South Africa and the United States — are favored. Host Mexico is given an outside chance.

Equal in interest to the team competition will be the individual rivalry among Beman of the United States, Cole of South Africa, Gary Cowan of Canada and Mike Bonallack of Britain, rated the four best amateur players in the world.

Bonallack and Ron Shade are back with the team that beat out Canada by two shots two years ago in Rome. Cowan, who edged Beman in a playoff this year for the U.S. amateur crown, is backed by veteran Nick Weslock, Doug Silverberg and Keith Alexander.

Besides Beman, the United States has Downing Gray, 28, of Pensacola, Fla., member of two Walker Cup teams; Ron Cerrudo of San Rafael, and Bob Murphy of Gainesville, Fla., the 1965 amateur winner.

The South African team of Cole, Comrie du Toit, Jonathan Fourie and Dave Symons comes here from a month's campaign in Brazil — perhaps the most tournament toughened team of the lot.

"Remember, too," said Cole, "We come from around Johannesburg, which is 6,000 feet above sea level. So Mexico City doesn't bother us."

Both the British and American balls weigh the same, 1.62 ounces but the British ball is 1.62 inches in diameter, the American 1.68.

High-Strung Women Golfers Discover New Way To Unwind

HAVE STRING, WILL UNRAVEL—A sugary little Tootsie Roll ankled up to me one day, waggled a well-manicured metacarpal at my salubrious proboscis and meowed: "So YOU'RE the old meanie who dislikes women golfers!"

Stunned, I gave it the classic "Who Me?" doubletake and begged that she must be mistaken, ma'am, for I LOVE women golfers. To be sure, I also love women welders, women wrestlers, women truck drivers and women bank robbers. Hell's belles, I even love the fat lady at the circus because there's acres and acres of her.

BUT THE feminine fairway flowers, particularly, are my cups of tea, eggs in my beer, sunshine and roses and sugar and spice because they do so many cute things to brighten my days.

Things can get pretty dull around here, but a sure cure-all is a phone call from one of our women's golf publicity cookies.

Like the day I was sitting here counting my blessings and feeling lower than a well-digger's soggy posterior when my favorite correspondent called to report the results of a "String Tournament." Getta load of THAT!

I ALMOST broke up into 185 pounds of jelly beans with that one. "Hold on a minute," I choked. "You played a Three Little Pigs Tournament last week; F and T Tournament the week before; Throw Out Three Holes Tournament the week before that and Flag tourneys, Big and Little Sisters and Odd or Even tournaments during the summer. NOW, my dear, what in God's green acres is a String Tournament?"

"Well," she purred, "suppose your handicap is 36 and . . ."

"Waitaminute," I interrupted. "My handicap is 36-26-36 and don't get so personal . . ."

"NO, NO, Damon," she retaliated, "I mean your GOLF handicap. Well, in a string tournament we give you a piece of string in place of handicap strokes, measuring a foot of string for each handicap stroke."

"Well, I'll be hanged," I said. "How sweet of you. What do I do now, knit a sweater or play golf?"

"Don't get sassy, Grantland."

"My name is Shamus, and don't YOU get so smart!"

"OKAY, NOW where were we? Oh, yes. Now, if your handicap is 36, you get 36 feet of string. (Whee!) You may move the ball by hand to a more favorable spot at any time, measuring the distance moved with the string and cutting off the length used, until the string is all gone. Then you're on your own. String may be used to advance the ball into the hole or out of a hazard without counting a stroke."

"OH, GOODIE, goodie," I clapped. "But, suppose I hit a ball up a tree. Can I quit golf and take up yo-yo?"

"Don't tempt me to answer THAT one, Shamus."

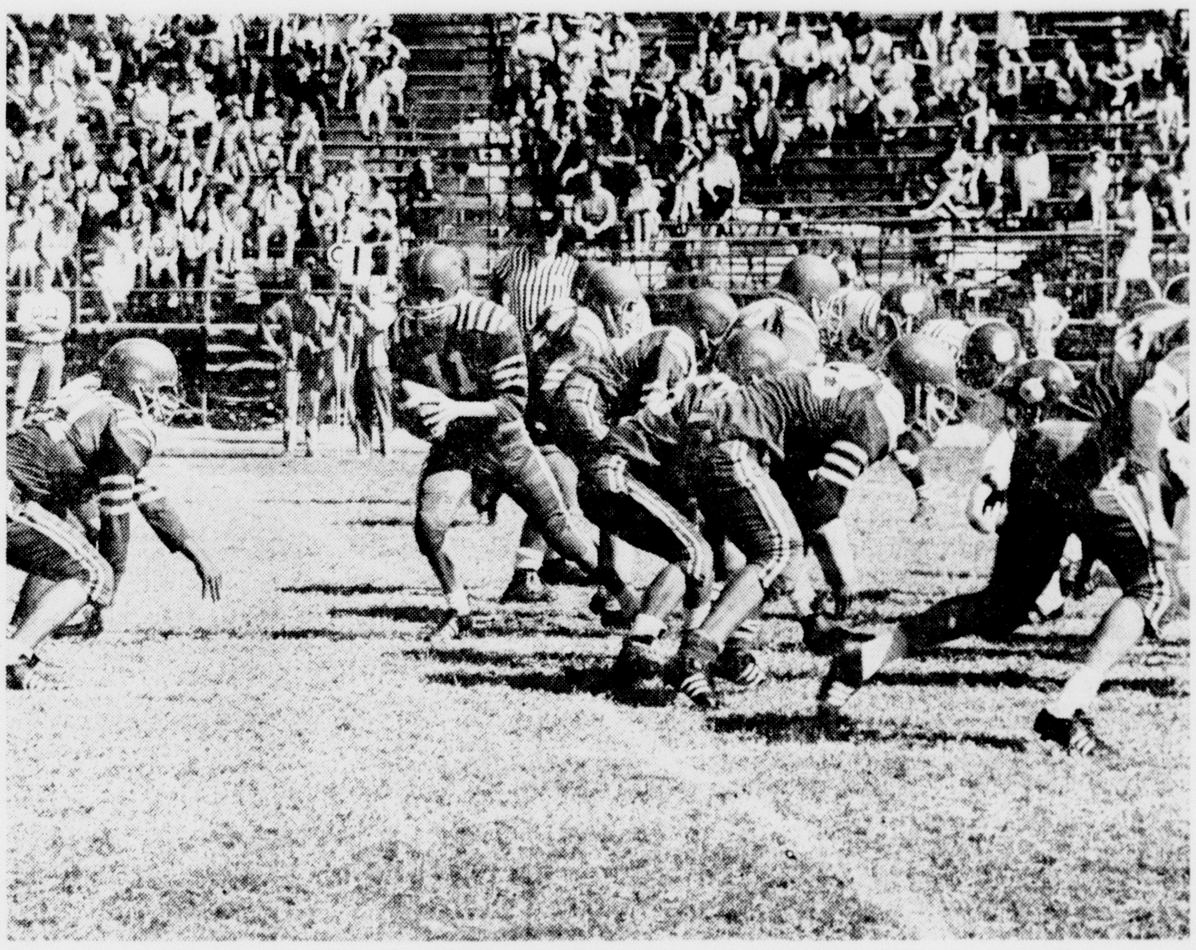
"Okay. But are you seriously telling me that if you have a difficult 10-foot putt you can make it merely by snipping off 10 feet of string? Or, if you're in a trap you can just unravel yourself onto the green? Or if you whiff a tee shot you can advance to the end of that line? Is THAT what you're trying to tell me, Bunkie?"

"Precisely, Shamus. Would you like to play a string tourney sometime?"

"OH, GRACIOUS yes. I can hardly wait to watch my War Department's expression when I don my very best knickers, grab a ball of string and tell her I'm going out to play golf with the girls."

"Oh, Shamus, you're ribbon us women golfers again!"

"No, no, my chicken dumpling. It's like I was telling some little Tootsie Roll the other day. I love women golfers. Who else could play 18 holes of golf, knit a blanket, darn a pair of socks, hang out a week's wash, wrap all their Christmas presents, collect a string of birdies and still come out of it all with a tie?"



GUESS WHO FOR TAM

It's not Joe Namath, but it could be. Tam's 546-yard quarterback Steve Woodward seems deep in thought as he drops back to pass against Marin Catholic last week. Will it be Biber, Fowler, Reiter, Adams, or Blasingame? The Indians meet the Redwood Giants at College of Marin Stadium in Kentfield Saturday at 8 p.m.

NCAA PROBATIONS

Purdue, Bradley Slapped

NEW YORK (UPI) — Purdue and Bradley have been placed on probation for one year each by the NCAA for infractions involving basketball players while a similar two-year ban on Southern Methodist has been terminated.

The penalties imposed on both Purdue and Bradley were mere slaps on the wrist and neither school will be prohibited from taking part in post-season bowl games or tournaments in other sports. Purdue is a leading contender to represent the Big Ten in the Rose Bowl.

The NCAA announced that under the terms of the disciplinary action it was placing under close surveillance the athletic programs and staffs of the two schools. The probationary period is effective immediately.

In both cases, the NCAA Committee on Infractions credited the schools involved with initiating and conducting the investigations into the violations and reporting their findings to the concerned conference and the NCAA.

Purdue, located in Lafayette, Ind., is a member of the Big Ten and Bradley, situated in Peoria, Ill., belongs to the Missouri Valley Conference.

In a prepared statement, the NCAA said that Purdue basketball coach George King provided two boys "the opportunity for off campus entertainment by transporting them to a site removed from Lafayette, Ind., where they eventually participated in informal basketball competition."

Purdue also was charged with granting a prospective student-athlete a cost-free commercial airplane trip from his home to the campus and back.

School authorities at Purdue voluntarily placed King, a former professional basketball player with the old Syracuse Nationals, on full probation. He is prohibited from recruiting on or off campus, appearing at banquets and speaking on radio and TV programs.

In addition, the Big Ten placed King's entire staff on probation.

Bradley's case violated the principles governing financial aid to athletes.

The NCAA charged that first-year basketball coach Joe Stowell "signed a bond and made appropriate deposit to guarantee teh appearance of a Bradley student-athlete in a court of law."

SAN FRANCISCO GETS PRO SOCCER FRANCHISE

BEVERLY HILLS (AP)—The new National Professional Soccer League has awarded San Francisco a franchise after Boston withdrew because it lacks a suitable stadium.

The league will have a 32-game schedule and will begin operation in April of 1967, officials said yesterday as the NPSL wound up a two-day meeting.

Boston was set aside for future review if the league is expanded. It is on a list with Baltimore, Miami, Milwaukee, Denver, Houston, Cleveland and Detroit.

At present the League's Eastern Division will include Pittsburgh, Hartford, Conn., New York, Philadelphia, Washington and Atlanta. The Western division will include Toronto, Chicago, St. Louis, San Francisco, Los Angeles and San Diego.

49ers Face Rough Time In Minnesota

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —The San Francisco 49ers face a rough time against the Minnesota Vikings in their National Football League battle next Sunday.

San Francisco coach Jack Christiansen conceded that point after watching films of the Vikings yesterday.

Viking quarterback Fran Tarkenton "is better than ever," Christiansen said. "After seeing films of the Vikings' last two games I can see why we are the underdogs."

"Minnesota isn't doing anything different than it did when we first played them (a 20-20 tie)," Christia6nsen said. "They certainly are doing things better. But then so are we."

More Praise For Orlando; This Time From Al Dark

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—"Orlando (Cepeda) is the type of player every ball club needs," said a deposition by former San Francisco Giant manager Alvin Dark at Cepeda's $1 million libel suit trial yesterday.

Dark's words were introduced in evidence as Cepeda and his lawyers fought to prove an article by Look Magazine sports editor Tim Cohane was incorrect when it said Cepeda was in "the doghouse" with the Giants management in 1963.

"We never tried to trade either Cepeda or Willie McCovey or Felipe Alou," Dark stated in his deposition dated Sept. 10, 1965.

"We got to the point where we had to trade Alou to get a pitcher but we couldn't get enough from any club to trade Cepeda or McCovey."

Cepeda's attorney Marvin Lewis asked Charles R. Stoneham, son of Giants owner Horace Stoneham, if his father had been "fed up" with Cepeda.

Giants public relations director Gary Schumacher also testified that the elder Stoneham was never "fed up" with Cepeda.

Cohane has testified that Schumacher was the principle source of information for his May 21, 1963 article entitled "Orlando Cepeda: Can He Slug His Way Out of the Doghouse?"

Japan Nine Whips L.A. In Slugfest

SENDAI, Japan (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers, on an 18-game barnstorming tour of Japan, were whipped 13-6 by the Yomiuri Giants of Tokyo today.

The Dodgers' record now stands at 2-2.

Some 32,000 fans watched the Japanese outslug the Americans, collecting 13 hits off four Dodger pitchers. Los Angeles touched four Giant hurlers for seven hits.

Leadoff man Jim Barbieri poled a home run off pitcher Akira Takahashi in the opening inning. The Giants came back in the bottom half of the first with a homer by Yukinobu Kuroe to tie the count.

In the second inning, Dodgers outfielder Ron Fairly smacked a two-bagger and came home on third baseman John Kennedy's single. Shortstop Tommy Dean then rolled a safe bunt toward third off Yoshiyasu Tanebe, who replaced A. Takahashi.

Catcher Jeff Torborg bunted toward first and Sadaharu Oh scooped up the ball but made a bad throw to first base, allowing Kennedy and Dean to score. Tom Hutton then drove in Torborg for the fourth run.

In the bottom half of the second, the Giants, after two out, tallied six runs on five hits and two walks.

After that the Dodgers were never able to catch up with the home team which scored two runs in the fifth and four more in the seventh.

Tars To Host Yuba Friday

It's back to the drawing board for the College of Marin Tars.

At least as far as a little something called pass defense is concerned after Sierra, proud owner of last place in the Golden Valley Conference last year, bettered its previous record by shredding the Tars' pass defense enroute to a 34-31 victory last week.

"They surprised us," Marin coach Dick Read said. "We've seen them play three times and never saw them do much passing. But they sure had it."

Although the loss puts the Tars off on the wrong foot in the conference, it wasn't as bad as all that. Tackle Chuck Unruh and fullback Dick Otis, who were thought to be injured seriously during the game, turned out to have minor hurts after all.

Otis suffered a minor bruise and is not expected to be hampered but Unruh has a big bruise on his shoulder and may be able to play only on offense Friday when the Tars play conference leading Yuba College in Kentfield, 8 p.m.

Another plus factor against Sierra was the passing of quarterback Al Simontacchi and Otis. The two combined for a school record by totaling 309 yards passing with Simontacchi getting 252 yards while Otis threw a pair of touchdown passes to round out the yardage.

"The loss certainly puts a lot of pressure on us," Read said. "But there have been some tight games so far in the league and I don't expect it to change."

"Sierra was certainly a lot stronger than last year," he added. "They have a tremendous offense and they're going to be in there."

Record Losers Payoff For L.A. Dodgers

NEW YORK (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers, who three weeks ago established a fistful of World Series records they'd like to forget, have set another Series mark they can afford to remember.

The Dodgers, beaten in four straight games by the Baltimore Orioles and shut out over the last 33 innings, scored heavily yesterday when the official distribution of series receipts was announced by Commissioner William D. Eckert's office.

Each full share for the Dodgers was worth $8,189.36, a record for Series losers. The Orioles' full shares were $11,683.04 — short of the record of $12,794 per man set by Los Angeles in dividing the spoils of its 1963 sweep over the New York Yankees.

The total player pool was a record $1,044,042.65 but the Orioles, in voting 34 full shares and cutting in 47 persons, wound up with the second best payoff per-man in Series history. The Dodgers voted 29 full shares in 1963.

This year the Dodgers voted 34 full shares, breaking the losers' mark set by the 1963 Yankees, whose full shares amounted to $7,874.32 apiece.

Los Angeles awarded a half share to infielder Dick Schofield, a September acquisition who made a big contribution to its National League pennant drive but was ineligible for the Series, and a two-thirds share to first baseman Dick Stuart, picked up as a free agent July 5 after he was cut by the New York Mets.

The Dodgers also voted a one-fourth share to the widow of Issaic Bingham, a stadium security guard who died last month after an alleged attack by one of two men he was escorting from the park. Mrs. Bingham will receive $2,047.34.

The pilot and co-pilots of the Dodgers' plane were among 16 recipients of cash awards.

The Orioles voted a full slice to catcher Dick Brown, who underwent brain surgery lats winter, and gave pitcher Frank Bertaina 82 per cent of a full share. The Baltimore ground-keeping crew received half shares, as did part-time catchers Camilo Carreon and Larry Haney.

Full shares for Minnesota, runner-up in the American League, and San Francisco, second in the National, amounted to $2,235.18 and $2,256.40, respectively.

Detroit got $1,500.24 per full share and Pittsburgh $1,465.46 for their third lpace wind-ups.

Football Reborn At St. Mary's

MORAGA (UPI) — St. Mary's College yesterday announced it would resume football on a low-pressure basis in 1967.

St. Mary's was once a national grid power, but abandoned its program when the invasion of the pros into the Bay Area hurt its gate. A spokesman said yesterday that the program would be resumed under student management with a first-year budget of $8,000.

The Gaels hope to play Stanford's junior Varsity, Moffett Field, San Quentin and several frosh teams in 1967. USF resumed football on the same basis several years ago and has since built up a full intercollegiate schedule. The once-great USF-St. Mary's game thus might well be revived in a few years.

Bears Vs. Penn State Saturday

BERKELEY (AP) — The University of California football Bears prepared for Saturday's road game with Penn State with work on pass defense, pass offense and running.

George Gearhart, who missed most of Cal's game with UCLA because of a bruised hip, dressed for yesterday's drill.

Penn State is a 22-point favorite to beat Cal.

UOP Vs. San Jose

STOCKTON (AP) — The University of the Pacific Tigers are hot for San Jose State blood and will get a chance at the Spartans on the gridiron this Saturday.

Coach Doug Scovil said yesterday that he had his Tigers working hard on pass defense because he expects Spartan quarterback Danny Holman to start in spite of injuries suffered last Saturday in the Spartan's encounter with Texas Western.

Last year San Jose defeated

Stanford-Washington

STANFORD (AP) — Four Stanford players who were out of the Indians' football battle with Illinois last Saturday are expected to see action against Washington this Saturday.

Linebacker Andy Carrigan, tight end John Mason, tackle Mike Hibler and fullback Greg Broughton, all injured prior to the Illinois game, were put back into the lineup yesterday.

However tackle Brad Stark suffered a sprained ankle in yesterday's practice putting him out of action temporarily.

Novato Cagers Remain Unbeaten

Novato and Marin Catholic continued their winning ways in the Marin Athletic League "C" basketball race with victories yesterday.

Novato ran its undefeated streak to 3-0 with a 52-34 victory over Tamalpais at Tamalpais. Gary Howard with 15 points and Dave Gorman with 14 points paced the winners.

Marin Catholic got by Terra Linda, 29-21, as Mike Luchessa scored nearly half of the Wildcats points with 14. David Page led Terra Linda with 7 points. Marin Catholic now has a 6-2 record.

Hockey's Bobby Hull A Perfect Mesomorph

I don't know about you, but, whenever a hospital wants to check me over, it's usually to see if they can find something terminal—something that would account for the bags under my eyes, the pouch under the belt, the greenness around the gills, and the tremor in the puffy white hands. They shake their heads in dismay. "Tell us," they demand. "Do you ever get ANY exercise?"

NOW, WHEN they call in Robert M. Hull, the prominent ice man, it's to "Ooh" and Aah!" and to drool as they check him over. They probe like cattlemen judging a prize bull, look at Bobby Hull and murmur, appreciatively: "Look-it here! The most perfect musculature since the Piltdown Man." If he had fur on him, they'd cage him. The doctors look at Bobby Hull and murmur, "Tell me. Do you ever sit down?"

"HE'S WHAT they call "a perfect mesomorph." This is a creature found only in certain jungle clearings, or chopping cotton or cane under a hot Caribbean or Suwannee River sun. It is the kind of body that comes from generations of ship-loaders, or rock-removers, lion-fighters, or tree-cutters. It belongs in paleontology, not in competition, it's a throwback.

IT'S NOT a fabricated kind of thing — done with presses and weight-lifts and hours of muscle-flexing in front of a mirror or on a beach. Bobby Hull crawled out of the crib with it. It's the kind of body that is not even a memory for most of us —chest thicker than belly, calves thicker than ankles, shoulders wider than buttocks, stomach as flat and seamed as a ship's plate, neck thick and sturdy.

But it's functional. A torso like Hull's is frequently bought at the expense of bound muscles, cramped movement. Its possessor is good only for posing, not competing.

BOBBY HULL could have been anything athletically. He's not only a perfect mesomorph, he's a perfect athlete. More to the point, he's a perfect hockey player. He is the holder of the one-year record for goals—54. He is the only man in the history of the game to score 50 or more goals twice. His 323 goals in 9 years spells ultimate jeopardy for Gordie Howe's 624 goals in 20 years, his slap shot is a 120-mile-an-hour blur which has done more for orthodontics than candy.

Hockey, unfortunately, is as esoteric an entertainment in large parts of the U.S. as German opera, and Bobby would be as well known if he went around turning into a swan in Act 3 at high-C. This is partly because the operators of the game have kept it a kind of secret society. It has fewer fans than the Republican party and is harder to get into than Peking.

FOR ALL his legendary strength (it is said to change a tire, he simply rolls the car over), Hull is a comparatively peaceful fellow on ice—so much so, that each team keeps a man whose sole job is to try to make Hull mad. One reason Hull doesn't get mad is that he punched a player in Detroit so hard the doctors had to send out for a photograph to see how to put his face back together. Also Hull broke a finger in the encounter which he figures cost him 8 goals. With a broken nose one year, he scored 8 goals in five games and his reasoning is, it is better for him to get a broken nose in a fight than a broken hand.

THE BODY should be on bubblegum cards, and will be as soon as hockey becomes truly international, but neither his body nor gibes at it bother Hull the Hulk — not even when he was in Hawaii with his buddies this summer, and at a restaurant, the irrepressible Paul Hornung swept his hand around to the others and said "We'll have steaks." The waiter pointed at Hull. "What about him?" "Him?" said Hornung. "Oh, just bring him a bunch of bananas. We'll peel them for him."

OCTOBER IN THE SNOW?

It's still October but the tang of winter already is spurring ski buffs like Sandy Brand (left) and Adeen Bass to take to the slopes (in this case a huge mound of salt) and await the season's forthcoming California Ski and Winter Sports Show. The show will be held in San Francisco's Masonic Auditorium Nov. 17-20 with all the atmosphere of snow-blown slopes and ski resorts.

IT'S STILL A MONTH AWAY

Rivalry Already Hot For Irish, Michigan St. Game

CHICAGO (AP) — Notre Dame and Michigan State don't meet for another four weeks but there seems to be a bristling battle between the two schools even though neither coach will admit it.

It all began last week when Notre Dame overtook Michigan State as the No. 1 team in the nation. Michigan State scored a close 11-8 victory over Ohio State while Notre Dame rung up a 35-0 decision against North Carolina.

There are those who believe that because of this Michigan State went out to prove a point by slugging Purdue 41-20, a far more impressive victory than Notre Dame's opening triumph of 26-14 versus the Boilermakers.

It was only halftime at Norman, Okla., when the Michigan State score was announced. Notre Dame held a 17-0 lead.

Parseghian's answer was, "Our only interest is to win games. We have no intention of running up 60, 70, 80 points even if we were capable of it.

"We went ahead of Army 35-0 and then played the second unit. A team can't predict running up a score," said Ara, who then took a gentle swipe at Michigan State by adding "forty one points against Purdue is an accomplishment."

Parseghian dismissed the possibility that Navy, Pitt and Duke will be easy for the Irish.

"There are no soft touches in football," cried Ara. "We beat Pitt by a big margin last year and Miami of Florida lost to Pitt by two touchdowns and then Miami turned around and tied us."

Parseghian then swung into singing praises of Navy, his next opponent. Few took him seriously.

But the Irish roared back with 21 points in the third quarter to smother previously undefeated Oklahoma.

Are they running up points? Will MSU's next three foes — Northwestern, Indiana and Iowa — feel the wrath of Spartans, who are longing to regain the No. 1 spot? What can such comparatively weak foes as Navy, Pitt and Duke expect from Notre Dame's legions?

Both Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame and Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State were evasive yesterday when the questions were presented to them by telephone at a meeting of the Chicago Football Writers.

"We've never done it," said Daughterty when asked about running up scores. "we can't even look beyond Northwestern this week let alone worry about Notre Dame.

"Our No. 1 object is to win the Big Ten championship," said Daugherty. "We can't stop the press and the fans from looking ahead but we'll try to keep the players from doing it."

Bruins Beban, Farr Dominate Pacific-8

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — UCLA halfback Mel Farr's two touchdowns against California last Saturday gave him the Pacific-8 scoring lead over his teammate, quarterback Gary Beban.

Farr's production in the 28-15 victory gave him 56 points for the season. Beban did not score and his total remained at 46. California's Jerry Bradley tallied a touchdown to boost his third place total to 36.

Beban continues in a runaway lead for total offense with 1,254 yards, 945 through the air and 309 rushing. Troy Winslow of Southern California ranks second with 740, just 10 more than Jerry Henderson of Washington State.

Henderson holds the lead in passes completed with 74 while his teammate, Doug Flansburg, has caught 42 to pace that department. Beban and Winslow, with 59 and 54 respectively, follow Henderson. USC's Ron Drake and Stanford's Bob Conrad are second and third in receiving with 33 and 28.

Nate Shaw of Southern California and Wayne Stewart of California each have intercepted five passes.

Among punters, Gary Houser of Oregon State has averaged 42.6 on 33 boots. Washington State's Ted Gerela posts a better average at 48.3 but has kicked only six times.

Three Marin Boys Gain Football Quarterfinals

Three Marin County lads will be competing in the quarterfinals of the national pass, punt and kick contest at Funston Stadium in San Francisco at 10 a.m. Saturday.

The contest will involve winners from three states, including Northern California, Northern Nevada and Southern Oregon.

Marin County boys who survived the Bay Area eliminations were David DelGrande, 142 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, in the 9-year-old division; William Peters Jr., 38 Lakeside Drive, Corte Madera, in the 8-year-old group and Frank Giorgi, 1959 Eliseo Drive, Greenbrae, in the 11-year-old age group.

Winners will advance to the semi-finals and from there to the finals for a shot at the grand prize of a trip to Washington, D.C.

Warriors Have Listless Drill

Tom Meschery and Al Attles sat out a San Francisco Warrior practice session yesterday.

Meschery was kicked in the nose last Friday and since has had it reset. Attles has a pulled leg muscle, but should be ready to go when the Warriors open a tough Eastern swing Friday at Baltimore.

Fred Hetzel wore a brace on his left knee, but stumbled during the drill and pulled a tendon. He should be slowed considerably if he performs against the Bullets.

Coach Bill Sharman described the practice as a listless one. He still wants his team to get tougher on defense and more aggressive on the court.

The Warriors are 2-3 for the season.

Afrons To Try For Land Speed Record

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah (AP) — Art Arfons of Akron, Ohio, plans to take a crack at the world land speed record next week.

He postponed an attempt earlier this fall when the rear wheels rubbed against the wheel wells. He has since enlarged the wells and put dual wheels on the rear of his jet-powered car, the "Green Monster."

PASS THIEF—A big day, including three pass interceptions, against Redwood has earned Novato High's Pat Dougherty "Prep of the Week" honors in the Marin Athletic League. (Independent-Journal photo)

NOVATAN IS PREP OF WEEK

By RALPH CHATOIAN

Pat Dougherty started his first varsity football game last Saturday. Today he's the Independent-Journal's Prep of the Week.

Dougherty, a 17-year-old junior at Novato High School, intercepted three passes and made some crunching tackles to help his team to a 6-0 win over Redwood on the Novato field.

He was the Johnny on the spot when it counted. At 5-11 and 155 pounds he's no Goliath. But he's a tough customer. Just ask some of the backs he tackled.

He was a defensive back and offensive end when he played frosh football at Novato. Last year as a sophomore, he was a tailback on the junior varsity team and didn't play defense. He started this season as an offensive tailback, but after an injury to one of the Novato defenders, he was moved to defense as a "fill in."

"He asked us if he could play defensive back," said Novato coach Al Scott, "and we gave him a chance."

EARNS JOB

He played some of the game in which the Novato defensive backfield was burned for 546 yards by Tamalpais quarterback Steve Woodward. During the week's practice between that Tam game and last Saturday's game against Redwood, he earned a spot in the starting defensive backfield.

The switch to first string has made Scott and his coaching staff look like wizards.

In addition to plucking off three interceptions, Dougherty was hitting Redwood halfbacks a yard from the line of scrimmage, coming in from his deep back spot like a linebacker.

'CAN'T WAIT'

"You can't wait for a guy to come at you or he'll go right over you. And that can hurt," said Dougherty, a handsome lad who looks anything but mean.

In addition to junior varsity football last year, he was on the Novato varsity wrestling team last year, losing only one dual match throughout the season. He placed fourth in a novice North Bay Section tourney last year in Berkeley.

"I'm not going to wrestle this year," said Dougherty. "I cracked two ribs last year. That was enough."

Instead, he's going to try his hand at swimming. "I like to swim, so I'm going to go out for the team."

He also played freshman baseball and basketball, so you see this youngster likes all sports. He also water skis when he gets a chance.

STARTED RUNNING

On one of his interceptions last Saturday three Novato backs went up for the ball and Dougherty came down with it.

"The ball hit my hand when we all jumped up for it. The other two guys went to the right and the ball came straight down in my hands. So I grabbed it and started running," he said.

Pat has two sisters, Vicki, 13, and Sherri, 11, and a brother, Mike, 19, a Novato High School grad. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Dougherty, maintain the family home at 1555 Center Road, Novato.

Pat's father is a public accountant while Mrs. Dougherty works at Fairchild Semiconductor in San Rafael.

Stats Show Drake, Terra Linda 'Even'

If there is any doubt that the upcoming Drake-Terra Linda football clash will be a close one, the Marin Athletic League statistics should erase them.

Drake has the league's top rusher in fullback Tom Mauer, who has 287 yards. He's followed by Paul Lee, Terra Linda halfback with 249 yards. In the lower rungs, Drake's Bill Hickerson is seventh with 106 yards and Terra Linda's Rod Jones is ninth with 103 yards.

The Pirates are all alone in the passing category. They have the league's fourth-best passer in junior Don Stone who has hit for 416 yards and six TD's. The Trojans, who do not like to pass, are dead last in team passing while Drake has moved up to third.

Terra Linda has the top rushing statistics in the league, but guess who's right behind. It's not the 49ers.

Drake is second in total offensive yardage. Terra Linda sixth. The Pirates moved into first place in defense against rushing, followed by Terra Linda.

But the Trojans, have the over all defensive lead having allowed an average of 169 yards a game, only two touchdowns on the season, and no scoring whatsoever in three league outings. Drake has allowed 59 points in league play and is third in overall defense.

On a seasonal note, two MCAI quarterbacks passed the 1,000-yard mark this past week. Tam's Steve Woodward, by hitting for 232 yards pushing his total to 1,126 yards while San Rafael's Bill Joost brought his year's work to 1,033 yards.

Tam's Mike Fowler, nowhere in sight on the rushing statistics last week, worked his way up to third place with a 129-yard effort against Marin Catholic. He also pounded into the end zone three times to move into a three-way tie for third place scoring. Teammate Mike Biber padded his scoring lead to by hauling in three-touchdown receptions to give him 42 points in league play. San Rafael's Sam Crowell is second with 24 points on four touchdown pass receptions.

Crowell moved into the lead in pass receptions, ahead of Biber. Crowell has 30 receptions for 494 yards in league play while Biber has 27 grabs for 406 yards.

Big Games This Weekend

By ROB HARVEY

Halfway to the finish line, two major Marin County Athletic League football games are on tap this week on both the freshman and junior varsity battle fronts.

Each of the four teams is undefeated in three MCAL encounters, so barring any ties, someone will fall from the ranks of the unbeaten to clear the way for this season's champ in the respective seven-team divisions.

The key jayvee game of the week will see Redwood go against Tamalpais Friday at Redwood, 4 p.m., while the feature attraction in freshman action pits Novato against San Rafael Thursday, 4 p.m., at Novato.

Redwood's jayvee squad reeled into its position with a 13-0 win over Novato last Saturday at Novato while Tam last Friday handled visiting Marin Catholic, 26-7.

"We think we're going to win it," exclaimed Tony Bailey, Redwood mentor. "We think our kids are ready . . . we have a real good group of boys."

Bailey said that pass defense was the key factor in that victory over Novato, as his troops picked off a total of seven Novato aerials, the two scores both set up by interceptions. Jim Peters snared two, and Dore Schwab, Dan Deedy, Pito Diaz, Bruce Jenkinson and Joe Royer accounted for one each. Royer's nullified by a clipping penalty. All of the scoring was done in the first quarter, with Gary Kasprzak's 8-yard run accounting for the first one and George Adams' 10-yarder making it 12-0. The lone point after touchdown came via a pass frorm Pete Carroll to Hal Pritchard.

But no doubt Tam coach Al Ahlsten is just as confindent of his team's chances. Tam's decisive win over the junior Wildcats stemmed from halfback Luther Brown's two TD's on jaunts of 55 and 45 yards; fullback Dave Hector's 80-yard sprint, and a 35-yard pass from Kerry Tusup to flanker Bob Gerrard.

As for the freshman gridders, who's afraid of Novato coach Larry Karinen's team just because it beat Redwood 14-0 last Friday at Redwood? Maybe San Rafael should be, although its 21-7 triumph over Drake last Thursday at Drake leads us to suspect not.

But in building up its 3-0 MCAL mark, the Novato frosh have yet to be scored on, have outgained opponents 800-plus-yards to plus 35.

"This should be the big game," explained Karinen, pointing to the "unbalanced league with three good teams and three teams that are fairly poor."

That third team he referred to is Terra Linda, 2-1 in league play with an outside chance to create a three-way tie, providing Novato knocks off San Rafael Thursday and the Trobabes—scheduled to meet Novato in the season's finale—can hereafter keep their record unblemished.

Both of Novato's touchdowns came in the second quarter, a blocked kick each time around the 40-yard line being carried in in about six or seven plays. Vince LaGoy, with 137 yards in 17 carries, scored the first with an 8-yard run and ran for both extra-points; Steve Lambert tallied the other with a 4-yard plunge up the middle. Other Novato standouts were quarterback Mike Turner, and Wayne Palmer, a tackle.

If you think comparing scores means anything, the Hornet Babes waxed Drake in its opener 40-0, a bit better than San Rafael's recent 21-7 win in which quarterback Lowell Widmer threw two six-point passes, to Tom McGrath in the first quarter, and Bruce D'Ambra in the second; and Bruce Maglione galloped 48 yards to pay dirt to ring up most of the Bullpups' scoring. Lineman Charles Gray, with a safety to boast about, and Jim Donovan and Tom Brown also starred for the victors.

Meanwhile, Terra Linda's frosh team last Thursday edged host Petaluma 13-7 in non-league play as quarterback Dewey Forry and Mike Bridges combined for a 38-yarder, then Forry recovered his fullback's fumble in the end zone after a long series of second-quarter drives.

Terra Linda coach Hank Yamagata gave second-string signal-caller Steve Stocks the starting nod in that game as regular Tom Jackson is still ailing from a back injury, and "We thought he deserved a shot at it anyway." Yamagato noted that Petaluma was two yards short of the goal line when the clock wound down.

Continuing, Yamagata said: "Our hope is that Novato beats San Rafael and, providing that we don't lose up until we meet Novato, we can beat Novato."

In the only other freshman fray, Marin Catholic's Wildkittens last Friday crushed visiting Tamalpais 27-0, for their first league win in four tries, Steve Nelson scoring on a 20-yard pass from "Moon" Mullin; Tim Hanrahan on a 5-yard sprint off tackle; Jim Finnigan going over from 15 yards out after picking off an errant Tam pass. Tim Maltzahan, Tom O'Conner and Mike O'Brian were also cited for their fine play by coach John Leonard.

And in other jayvee action, Drake rolled past visiting San Rafael 19-2, while Terra Linda took a practice tussle with host El Camino, 27-13. Both games were played last Friday.

4-H Club Boys Save For Stock Purchases

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "What stocks—or mutual fund — should I buy for the boys in my 4-H Club, each having saved from $100 to $200? How do I this?" J. G.

A. Yours is a question I've never before encountered. It's somewhat complex, being affected by the law prohibiting minors trading in securities before 21. Either you, as club leader and legal custodian or a parent of each boy as custodian, would have to buy and hold the shares. I suggest consulting one or two security dealers in your nearest city on how best to handle this business.

You and the boys' parents should consider pooling the money—as is done in an investment club—and buying one or two stocks at a time, each boy's share being determined by the cash he puts up. You could thus minimize brokerage charges. Otherwise, if each boy makes individual investment he must pay the minimum $6 charge plus the odd-lot differential.

I incline toward purchasing stocks rather than mutual fund shares, because the boys can learn a great deal by following the action of their stocks and studying the news released by their companies. Your suggested buys are good ones. You might also look into these growth situations: American Electric Power, Arkansas-Louisiana Gas, Avco, Borden, Boise Cascade, FMC Corp., Idaho Power, Montana Power and Stouffer Foods.

Q. "I've never read a comment by you on Hammond Organ. I hold 500 shares for income. Will it ever reach my price of $24?" W. S.

A. A year ago I mentioned it as being too speculative for a widow to hold, but since you bought it for its generous dividend policy, you might hold it and watch earnings in relation to the dividend. Last year net income fell slightly, but currently orders are at record levels in all divisions. Full-year earnings are expected to top the $1.91 reported for fiscal 1966. You probably realize that Hammond is not a dynamic growth stock.

78.5 Autos Seen In U.S. This Year

AKRON, Ohio (UPI) —U.S. auto registrations this year will reach 78.5 million units, the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. estimates. This is an increase of nearly 45 per cent over the past decade.

Worldwide auto registration for 1966 will total 146.3 million units, an 87 per cent rise in 10

Dividend Increased

LOS ANGELES—Directors of Consolidated Freightways, Inc., have voted to increase the quarterly dividend to 20 cents per share from the previous 15 cents, to be paid Nov. 21 to stockholders of record Nov. 4.

Steel Leads Stock Market; Sharp Gains

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market closed with a sharp gain today under the leadership of steels. Trading was active.

U.S. Steel's dividend boost and Bethlehem's record third-quarter earnings lead the rally in steels and this set the example for most of the market.

Gains of 3 or better by U.S. Steel and more than 2 points by Bethlehem brightened the entire market picture.

American Smelting, up 2 or more, also set a good example of blue chip leadership.

Glamor stocks strung along in good style, many issues in airlines, office equipments and electronics rising 2 or better.

Volume for the day was estimated at 7.1 million shares compared with 6.24 million Tuesday.

Key stocks and glamor issues ran up on a broad front and the Dow Jones industrial average was showing a 10-point gain in late trading, bursting above the "magic" 800 line in its recovery drive.

Overseas Sales Is Expanded

NEW YORK — In a move designed to expand the overseas sales of U. S. Industries, Inc., the company has formed Equipment Credit Corp., a new industrial machinery installment sales finance company in the Philippines, it has been announced by I. John Billera, chairman and president.

The new company, with headquarters in Manila, will provide financing for equipment sales by USI Philippine subsidiary engaged in the sale and service of road building, logging, mining, construction air conditioning and other industrial equipment.

Billera stated the success of USI's domestic finance company, U. S. Industrial Corp., in expanding profitable sales for a similar subsidiary in Puerto Rico prompted the move into the Philippines.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

New Travel Service Business Opens In Downtown San Rafael

A new travel office — San Rafael Travel Service — has been opened at 818 D Street, San Rafael.

Principals are Steven R. Schuster, formerly manager at the Northgate office of Redwood Travel Advisors and a San Rafael resident, and Mrs. Erica Knowles Hall of San Anselmo, who had been with both Redwood Travel and with Budds Travel and Tours. They are seasoned travelers and advisors and have with them in the office Russell A. Meserole of Novato and Pamela McMillan of San Francisco. All four are well known throughout the county.

Schuster Mrs. Hall

GROUND HAS BEEN BROKEN for a new Southern Marin office for Fox and Carskadon, Inc. at 104 Tiburon Boulevard, across from the Tiburon National Bank in Alto.

Hageman-Thomas-Eklund designed the 4,200-square foot building and Twentieth Century Homes is constructing it. Completion should be shortly after the first of the year. This is Fox and Carskadon's third office in Marin, others being in downtown San Rafael and at Loch Lomond Shopping Center. The company also maintains a subdivision sales office at Bel Marin Keys and carries on subdivision sales in several other Marin areas, employing some 30 people in the county. Total Bay Area personnel is about 125.

The company has been operating a temporary office on Tiburon Boulevard for the past year, and the decision to put up a new building and make it a permanent home is the result of an encouraging increase in Southern Marin sales, according to Marin manager Samuel L. Wright Jr. The realty company will occupy about half of the new building and lease out the balance for professional administrative use. Earl L. Shuttleworth of Corte Madera, who has been with Fox and Carskadon since 1964, will manager the office.

McChesney

FOUR AND A HALF YEARS AGO, Anchor Distributing Co. (distributors for Hamm's and Waldech beers, Country Club stout and some imports) started out in Marin at 22 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, with 3,000 square feet, almost doubled that 18 months later by moving to 39 Mil Street — and is about to redouble by the first of the year.

Owner Donald Saccani has signed up for more than 11,000 square feet at 110 Paul Drive, Northgate Industrial Park with Dohemann and Co. Here Northgate builder Ronald Antonioli is at work on another project, with completion scheduled in January.

JOHN G. McCHESNEY of Tiburon has been elected a vice president of Hills Bros. Coffee, Inc. A mechanical engineer, he joined the company in 1947 in product research and became director of operations in 1962. McChesney continues to supervise both Hills Bros. eastern and western plants and is also in charge of purchasing and engineering services. He is a member of the Tiburon Planning Commission.

Prop. 6 Puts Curb On Pocket Veto Power

PROP. 6, which appears on the ballot under the innocuous title "Legislative Procedure," is aimed at reducing the Governor's power of pocket veto.

At present, bills passed by the Legislature during the last 10 days before adjournment can be held without comment by the governor and thus killed. The legislature has no chance to override this pocket veto.

This amendment would require the Legislature to recess for 30 days at the end of a general session and to reconvene for not more than five days for the sole purpose of reconsidering measures vetoed by the governor.

This measure would give the elected representatives of the people an opportunity to hear the governor's reasons for vetoing a bill and to override the governor if a two-thirds majority of both houses so desire.

There is little justification for a pocket veto by one individual, with no explanation of his objections, to prevail over the will of more than two-thirds of our elected representatives.

It is reasonable and proper that a mechanism be created to cope with the Governor's power of pocket veto. We recommend a YES vote on Prop. 6.

PROP. 7 (Compensation of County Officers), provides that each county board of supervisors will set the salaries for all county officers including the supervisors themselves.

The Constitution now provides that the legislature has the final say on salaries of county boards of supervisors, district attorneys and auditors.

Even now, for all practical purposes, salary recommendations are made by the county supervisors and by the county grand jury, and these recommendations are "rubber-stamped" by the legislature.

Lawmakers from outside Marin County, for example, who sit in Sacramento, have no direct knowledge of local conditions that call for salary changes in our county. They are not directly responsible to the local county taxpayers who foot the salary bill.

This amendment would put the responsibility for salary-setting on the locally elected supervisors, who are responsible and responsive to the public will.

It would permit the people within the county to hear and present testimony for or against a salary change. The county supervisors will have to answer to taxpayers for underpaying or overpaying certain officials.

There is no more justification for county salaries to be set by the state than to have state legislative salaries set by Congress in Washington.

We recommend a YES vote on Prop. 7.

U.N. Is Our Hope For Peace

In observing United Nations Week, we are acutely aware that the U.N. is far from being the panacea of all the world's ills.

Although world peace is far from reality, we recognize that the U.N. is the only existing world forum where all nations can strive toward the goals hopefully laid down 21 years ago.

The U.N. does work toward increasing food production in starving areas, eradicating diseases, combatting illiteracy and promoting social justice.

As Edgar F. Kaiser, national chairman for U.N. Day, points out:

"It is essential for the public to recognize and support, in principle, the necessity for effective institutions of government and social order on the international level. All nations, strong or weak, require a world body — a world forum—to assure world peace.

"This is the message which U.N. Day must effectively communicate to every city and town in our nation."

Despite its limitations, the United Nations is our best hope for survival in an era when the alternative to peace is annihilation.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Reapportionment Biting Hand Of Many Key Demo Senators

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Some rather interesting situations are developing in some of the state senate races because of the reapportionment of the state into new districts.

These are particularly in the north which is giving up a good part of its senate representation to Southern California.

So far, all the reports appear to favor the Republican candidates in at least three of the new districts.

IN THE HUGE district starting with Stanislaus County, running north on the Sierra side of the state to the Oregon border, incumbent Sen. Stephen Teale of West Point reportedly is running second fiddle to Richard Lyng, Republican of Modesto.

Teale was the author of the reapportionment bill, and as such, he engineered Stanislaus County into the Sierra district.

The story is that Sen. Hugh Donnelly, also of Modesto who is retiring and who opposed the reapportionment bill, has not forgiven Teale for the gerrymandering.

LYNG, WHILE unknown to politics, has a wide acquaintanceship not only in his home county, but also throughout the entire district. He is a seed dealer and his primary interests are with farmers.

Another district where two incumbents are battling it out is the area comprising the Northern Sacramento Valley counties, starting with Yolo in the south and running north through Shasta.

Here, Sen. Virgil O'Sullivan, the Democatic hope, is having a struggle against Sen. Fred Marler of Redding.

O'Sullivan is so disenchanted with reapportionment, he won't even answer questions as to whether he voted for or against the measure. He was asked the question at a recent meeting, and ducked the query. The record shows in Sacramento that he did vote for the reapportionment bill.

MEANWHILE, Marler is carrying on a strong and virile campaign against O'Sullivan. As the Republican standard bearer, he's given an odds-on chance of carrying Shasta County, which is strongly Democratic in registration. And Shasta, according to the experts, appears to be the key county in this new district.

One incumbent will lose out in the coast counties of Santa Cruz, Monterey, San Benito, and San Luis Obispo. It's between Republican Don Grunsky, of Santa Cruz, and Fred Farr of Monterey, with reports that the betting odds are heavily on Grunsky.

Another hot race between incumbents is taking place in Santa Barbara and Ventura counties. In that area, the word is that Sen. Robert J. Lagomarsino, Ventura, has the edge over Sen. Al Weingard, Santa Barbara.

Should all these Republicans win, it would bring the GOP representation in the senate to 18 members, against 22 Democrats. This would be a gain of five senators.

Class Grateful For I-J Tour

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The newspaper class at Bernard Hoffman School would like to publicly thank the Independent-Journal, and especially Ray Rogers for taking our news class on a guided tour of the Independent-Journal plant. Mr. Rogers explained what took place in each department and answered all our questions. We also want to thank the men in the stereotype department, who demonstrated making the plates with hot metal.

The teletype was working the whole time we were there so we knew that news was happening every moment and coming right to the Independent-Journal.

The trip was very helpful to our class. We think that most people do not realize how much work goes into printing a newspaper.

Udall: Stay Out Of Trees

Editor, Independent-Journal:

I am alarmed at all the clamor for a Redwood National Park and most of all at the insistent noise made in this direction by the so-called conservationists. I say so-called, because a true conservationist is a person basically interested in wise use of our natural resources for the benefit of mankind, and the redwoods are a prized natural resource of the great state of California.

Yet redwood trees are a living thing and while living to a great age they do get old and die and, like humans, are susceptible to the many hazards of old age. Therefore, in my opinion, they are at present adequately protected, and I wish to present the following facts to substantiate this viewpoint.

The State of California started in 1901 to set aside park-like stands of redwoods. This was furthered when the Save-the-Redwoods League was formed in 1918 and with subsequent help and cooperation from the redwood industry park-like stands were set aside and pledged to preservation until the league and the state could buy them from the lumber industry. So today there are 28 state parks containing 117,000 acres of superlative redwoods, and it is acknowledged that these lands contain one-fourth to one-third of ALL the superlative park-like stands that have EVER existed.

At present there are also an additional 6,500 acres of these trees that have been pledged to the state park program; but have not been purchased. This is acknowledged to be the greatest job of timber preservation anywhere on the face of the earth! And this has been done, not by "the great white father" in Washington; but rather by a cooperative effort of state, local and industry groups working together.

It is to be acknowledged that there is a great deal of development work yet to be done in the existing state parks since there is only an average of one campsite per 60 acres of Redwood Parks, and seven of the 28 parks have absolutely no facilities for either camping or picnicking!

Further, the federal government already owns 45 per cent of the total land area of the State of California, and of course this naturally throws the entire tax burden on the remaining lands held in private ownership. In fact, nine million acres of the publicly held lands in California, or approximately 9 per cent of the total land area in the state, are specifically committed to recreational uses. Therefore, why is it necessary to destroy the economy of two counties and thousands of jobs by taking another large chunk of land off of the tax rolls?

The redwood lumber industry believes it is possible to save these jobs and provide recreation in a growing, thriving economic forest unit under the multiple use concept; and they are not just talking, but actually making it work. Under what is called the "Redwood Industry Recreation Area" program, the industry has opened up in the past several years 365,000 acres of growing redwood forest land for the use of all forest enthusiasts. And of course at NO expense to the taxpayer! Incidentally, the redwood industry has 645,000 acres of their forest land in the tree farm program and redwoods have the natural ability to grow at a much faster rate than any other commercially available species.

Therefore, with all due respect to Secretary of the Interior Udall and the rest of the bureaucrats, I suggest that they stay in Washington, and let private enterprise work in cooperation with local government to preserve our redwood resource for the benefit of all, which they have so ably done.

Reader Claims Justice Denied

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The injustice is that our economy is not free and is not equal. Since, justice, freedom and equality are inseparable, then it follows that the population (or simply stated: the people) is the cause of the present state of the economy.

As the population continues to increase the economy continues to divide. How can we have justice, freedom and equality if elements within the population are continuously monopolizing the economy? Many people will state that monopolies are necessary; but it is soon discovered that monopolies deny competition. With each monopolistic merger the worker is forced to compete, not for the skill of the job, but for the paycheck. As the monopolies continue to grow in size and merge into ever-bigger monopolies, the depressed areas with the resulting unemployment and poverty is the breeding ground for further injusticese: vice and crime.

But one will ask: "How do you remove monopolies from our society?" That question can be clearly answered this way: "By the same legislative action that put the monopolies in power!"

We in the Bay Area are blessed with a fact that cannot be refuted. From Marin to San Francisco to the Alameda-Contra Costa hills we are continuously confronted with the harmonious blending of three primary natural phenomena: land, water and air. It is in these natural elements there is an unceasing effort to sustain all life. The land, water and air at this point is not a measure in monetary value. This measure of value is truly the wealth of a nation. At this juncture of land, water and air the principles justice, freedom and equality are in absolute harmony!

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

THERE ARE a number of people in this country — some pretty famous ones, too — who love a good bowl of chili so much they've formed an association to perpetuate the dish. It's called, appropriately enough, the International Chili Appreciation Society, and Frank Tolbert, the Dallas gourmet, has written a book about it named "A Bowl of Red." If you twist his arm hard enough, Tolbert will admit that three of the most enthusiastic eaters, or inhalers, of chili, are President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, and that movie girl named Elizabeth Taylor.

There was one disastrous evening when George Haddaway, exalted president of the I.C.A.S., ordered a bowl of chili in a Houston cafe and found Boston baked beans therein. Justifiably enraged, Mr. Haddaway threw the bowl at the chef, who summoned the constabulary. The cop, a chili enthusiast himself, considered Mr. Haddaway's rage entirely justified, but the tableaux had a happy ending when the chef repented of his sins, got a correct recipe from the appeased president, and has, presumably, been serving up superlative chili ever since.

IT'S REPORTED that people who have switched to that bourbon - flavored toothpaste now have forty per cent more cavities — but they just don't give a darn.

Congressional Record Not Near Super Colossal Mark

WASHINGTON—Congress didn't do as well as it looks.

Congressmen will be well advised not to hug themselves too warmly on how well they have transacted the public business this year.

And President Johnson would be more credible if he would cut back a little on his own extravagant praise of Congress as having made a legislative record near to super-colossal.

There is no doubt that in numerous areas of acute need —education, medicare, auto safety, and the war on poverty, for examples — Congress has been truly responsive to the President's leadership.

Not that everything Congress has done has necessarily been for the best, but this Congress has been on the side of trying to cope with the nation's problems, not to ignore them. That's good.

AS A RESULT Congress has made a productive and significant record. It merits praise, but there is no need to overdo it. The danger is of making it appear that Congress has done a better job than it has.

The truth is that the Congress is still nowhere near to being an efficient instrument for transacting the public business. It is dangerously inefficient and spawns inefficiency. In the age of $100 billion budgets and computerization, the way Congress conducts its affairs is not quite up to the horse and buggy era.

I'M NOT exaggerating. Let me illustrate:

Four months after the beginning of the present fiscal year on July 1, Congress had failed to act on 75 per cent of the federal budget.

In other words, after one-third of the first fiscal year had passed, the executive branch of the government was being forced to plan, organize and execute the public business with most of the appropriations necessary to do so still undecided by Congress.

Approximately four weeks before Congress was to adjourn, after being in session for forty weeks, it had still failed ot act upon about $75 billion of appropriations.

And what does this mean?

IT MEANS that many of the vast federal programs approved by Congress couldn't be adequately planned, couldn't be well organized, couldn't be effectively administered, and couldn't be sure what Congress was going to do to or for them at the last minute.

And it also means that Congress is acting on—approving, disapproving, or just idly kicking under the rug—approximately 75 per cent of a $100 billion budget in the last hurried, hectic, wearing days before adjournment — when anything can happen and often does. What doesn't happen is close, careful, responsible consideration of these massive appropriations.

If any private enterprise were to manage its business with such inefficient and irresponsible procedures, it would soon go bankrupt and those to blame would be fired.

JUST PASSING some kind of statute isn't going to help a bit. Why shouldn't Congress set itself the target of completing every appropriation bill on time—that is, by June 30—and then a July recess could be the automatic reward, or as much of July as was left after all appropriations bills were acted upon?

LBJ has reason to feel that Congress has been quite responsive to his leadership. But when some of the President's constituents examine the record, they will not likely overlook the fact that Congress rejected Johnson's first order of business (repeal of Taft-Hartley's 14b), killed home rule for Washington, impeded his efforts to improve trade with Eastern Europe, and discarded his most earnestly advocated request (the 1966 civil rights bill).

A joint Senate-House committee did come forward with some suggestions on Congressional reform. It proposed bold action on minor matters and inaction on major reforms needed to bring Ctngress into the space age.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Did LBJ Bottle Housing Funds?

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is covertly barring the the use of a major measure enacted by Congress several months ago to revive a severely sagging key industry—home building.

Before departing on his Far Eastern junket, the President directed the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration to ignore $1 billion of special assistance funds voted by Congress for the purchase of mortgages on low-priced homes.

This backstage move directly contradicts the President's repeated assurances that soaring Viet Nam expenditures would not be permitted to impair the domestic economy or programs.

BUT IT IS VERY evident that the purpose of this housing fund choke-off is to improve the administration's increasingly embarrassing budget deficit image.

That is bluntly charged by two influential senators of the President's own party—John Sparkman of Alabama, ranking member of the banking committee, and Vance Hartke, Indiana, a top member of both the finance and commerce committees.

As Hartke sees it, the administration prefers to avoid the impact of the $1 billion of special assistance funds on the budget rather than to alleviate widespread mounting unemployment in the home construction industry.

Also in Hartke's caustic opinion, being crassly disregarded in this "financial legerdemain" is the modest home buyer who is unable to cope with the tight money market and high interest "policy."

"THE ADMINISTRATION'S decision to defer the use of the $1 billion of special assistance funds authorized by Congress for the par-purchase of FHA and VA mortgages on low-priced homes is extremely regrettable," said Hartke. "Home building has experienced a tremendous setback this year, with commitments for new homes down 50 per cent or more in most areas of the country.

"This distressing condition is causing severe unemployment among building trades workers and allied fields. For these reasons, I think the administration's decision of not spending this urgently needed $1 billion, obviously a budgetary one, is cutting expenditures at the wrong spot, at the wrong time and rather cold-heartedly."

Senator Sparkman vigorously echoed this criticism.

FINAL PLEAS—In the hope of inducing the President to lift his unannounced ban, Congress went out of its way before quitting to pointedly remind him of the special housing funds and the urgent need for their prompt use.

This exceptional admonition was in the form of an amendment to his demonstration cities bill as finally adopted.

Sponsored by Rep. Richard Hanna, D-Cal., of the banking committee, the amendment expresses the emphatic "intent" of Congress that the special funds be released forthwith. Hanna's forceful declaration was approved without opposition by both the House and Senate.

Let's Keep Our Hills Green; Many Attend Commerce Breakfast

WHEN I WAS knee high to my teacher in elementary school (we called it grammar school then) I was first appalled to hear about the destruction caused by summer forest fires in California's beautiful mountain country, with the resulting floods next spring in the lowlands.

That was . . . well, quite a few years ago. Today, the battle is still going forward to legislate better lumbering practice and provide better fire protection to keep this state green, also to divert the precious water where it can be useful.

This came to mind recently as I listened to a discussion between some conservationists and the members of the Board of the Marin Municipal Water District on a program for fire protection on the watershed of District lands.

A GROUP OF organized conservationists can be persistent in their approach to a government body. If they weren't, we might have even less open space in California for recreation, wildlife or just to admire.

As I look around at the lovely hills of Marin County, I hope we can save at least a few of them from being developed. A few years ago in Tiburon I used to enjoy each morning a view of beautiful Red Hill as I drove around Mar West. Once it was cut, that hill was soon clustered with apartments and townhouses.

At their meeting last week, the Water District Board members accepted the basic principles of criteria presented by the Marin Conservation Club for uses on Mount Tamalpais. This will not prevent anyone whose application for use of the land differs from the criteria from being heard.

TIBURON PENINSULA'S Chamber of Commerce appeared to be going down the tight-money drain last spring when four members, two reporters, and a guest speaker were the whole crowd at a luncheon. This fall, the first meeting of the Chamber in Strawberry was a breakfast and was well attended by both members and merchants of the Strawberry Shopping Center.

Some shopkeepers said afterwards they were interested in facts and figures presented by Tiburon's City Manager Lawrence D. Rose and the city's chief annexation researcher, Michael Silberstein. They said they lost interest, however, when a Tiburon resident brought up a local problem of lack of sewers in eastern Tiburon. They were not interested in "local squabbles."

The Chamber's October meeting was also a breakfast at the Tiburon Lodge and over 20 members attended. Does this prove the tight money situation is loosening up? Or that merchants feel more in the mood for organization to coax more dollars into their cash registers? Or does it prove that in Tiburon more people would rather go to a breakfast than a luncheon meeting? Chamber president William Howell isn't sure but he hopes that, whatever the trend means, it will continue.

THOUGHTS ON moving into a new desk—many of the items in the drawers are understandably useful in this job. Some are mildly puzzling, for instance a couple of attachments to two absent cameras, one unidentifiable part to an unknown piece of equipment, etc.

There was one thing I could not figure out at all— a red plastic toy telephone. A gag present? A forgotten plaything for some reporter's child or young friend? Or maybe someone liked to make "pretend" phone calls to let off steam, as other people sometimes write letters and then tear them up?

If the owner is within reading distance he is welcome to claim the little telephone with no questions asked if he (or she) prefers. (Signed, Just Curious.)

For Generations, Alain Zick Will Be Remembered In France

WASHINGTON — The name Alain Zick means nothing in the United States, but to France he has become a legend whose story will be repeated for generations to come.

Monsieur Zick, a French chef of the Paris restaurant, Relais de Porquerolles, killed himself with a pistol after the Guide Michelin, the all-powerful food arbiter, took away Porquerolles' two stars and failed to mention it in its latest edition.

Not since Vatel, a maitre d'hotel to Louis XIV, threw himself upon his sword when the first course failed to arrive in time at a royal banquet has France been so moved by a gesture.

THIS SHOWED that despite the so-called "Americanization of France" there were still Frenchmen willing to die for their cuisine.

It goes without saying that such a thing could not happen in the United States. Had there been a Guide Michelin in the United States and had the editors taken the stars away from a first-class restaurant, this is undoubtedly what would have happened:

The owner of the restaurant would immediately fire his press agent, whom he would fully blame for the demotion. He would then hire a new press agent and call a conference of all the columnists in New York whom he had been feeding on the cuff.

THE OWNER would read a statement blaming the unions, high prices and the police review board for his troubles.

He would also announce he was firing his chef.

The chef would call his own press conference at the hotel and restaurant workers' hall and say he wasn't fired but was quitting because the owner cared more about how much money he made at the bar than he did about how good his food was.

"Are you unhappy?" he would be asked.

"I SHOULD SAY not. I've been offered jobs with three frozen food companies, an airline catering service and an advertising agency that makes commercials for electric knives."

"Then you're not too disturbed by losing two stars for the restaurant?"

"Why should I be? If I hadn't lost the stars, no one would have heard of me."

"Why do you think you lost the stars?"

"I pushed the wrong buttons."

"The wrong buttons?"

"YEAH, ON THE computer. You see, the boss went to a restaurant equipment convention in Chicago and he discovered a computer that could cook bouillabaisse twice as fast as a cook at half the price. So he installed it six months ago, but I never got the hang of it.

The computer either made it with no bread croutons or so many bread croutons you couldn't get any fish on the plate. Then there was another computer for filets mignons that you could broil in three seconds.

But the trouble was it cooked 1,000 filets mignons at one time, and a lot of them got cold waiting for someone to order them. I wasn't allowed to even touch the plates. After a while I just lost interest in the operation and didn't care which button I pressed."

"THEN DESPITE what the Guide did to your reputation you're not going to shoot yourself?"

"What for? Three publishers have asked me to write cookbooks, Ed Sullivan wants me to go on his show, and I don't know what this means, but I just got a call from the White House."

Negro Group Opposes Carmichael U.C. Visit

BERKELEY (AP) — A Negro student organization at the University of California's Berkeley campus has appealed to featured speaker Stokely Carmichael not to appear at a "black power" rally Saturday.

The Afro-American Student Union scheduled a rally for today to explain its opposition to a day-long seminar which it calls "farcical, insidious and politically oriented."

Carmichael, national president of the Student Non-violent Coordinating Committee, has been granted permission by the University to speak at the conference.

The Afro-American group said in its appeal to Carmichael:

"We oppose the insidious use of black people and our rallying cry of black power. We must and will stand in opposition to any party or parties who would make such a flagrant use of us."

Terry A. Francois, Negro member of the San Francisco board of supervisors, also urged Carmichael not to come to Berkeley.

In a telegram, Francois said, "As you must know our state has recently suffered serious social unrest, which has had a decided effect upon intergroup relations and the political climate."

Sukarno Not Expected To Kill Friend

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Political circles speculated today that President Sukarno would never sign the execution order for his former closest aide and adviser, Dr. Subandrio.

Subandrio, Sukarno's deputy premier until last March and Indonesia's foreign minister for nine years, was sentenced to death for treason last night by a special military tribunal which found him guilty of aiding the attempted Communist coup last October.

Throughout the trial, Subandrio denied any involvement in the coup.

When asked by the court if he wanted to appeal his sentence, Subandrio said, "No," but the court allowed him 30 days to appeal to Sukarno for clemency.

Ken Kesey Out Of Jail To Fight LSD

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Through the actions of three jurists, author Ken Kesey was free from jail on bail today and planning a "commencement exercise" to save the San Francisco Bay Area's young people from the psychedelic drug LSD.

Kesey posted $3,300 bail in San Francisco yesterday after Superior Court Judge Francis McCarty arraigned him on a charge of possession of marijuana and set Nov. 9 for plea.

The author of "One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest" has another court date, Nov. 4 in Redwood City, which also stems from marijuana charges. Kesey's bail in San Mateo County was satisfied by a $30,000 property bond.

A federal charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution has been dropped.

Prior to his capture by the FBI, Kesey said in a newspaper interview that he had left hiding in Mexico to try to persuade Bay Area LSD users to try abstinence for awhile. Kesey's "commencement exercise" for the "acid heads"—as the drug users are known—is planned for Saturday in San Francisco.

Delegates Named

David Burbank and Eugene Brown, both of Fallon, were named delegate and alternate, respectively, to the state Farm Bureau convention Monday by directors of the Marin County Farm Bureau. The convention will be Nov. 15-17 in Berkeley.

Petticoat Rebellion Spreads Across Nation

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The housewives insurrection stretched from Hawaii to New England today.

Petticoat rebels fought their war against high food prices with pickets, motorcades, telephone campaigns, and, the ultimate weapon—the boycott.

New groups of disgruntled mothers were formed as some successes—chiefly in the Southwest—were reported.

In Atlanta 20 women picketed at least five supermarkets yesterday. Their signs proclaimed "Housewives, Arise," and "We've had it."

The manager of one Atlanta store, the Big Apple, agreed prices were too high but suggested the women boycott a name brand product rather than the whole store so as to force wholesale prices down.

The prices of staples, including bread and milk, concerned many mothers the most. Representatives of the Housewives Voice for Lower Prices in Phoenix, Ariz., revealed yesterday they were negotiating with a market to sell bread baked by the group's members.

There were these related developments:

In Washington, the Federal Trade Commission (FTC) reported that farmers and processors got their share of a recent 7 per cent jump in bread and milk prices, but that retailers' markups were double and triple the stepups at the farm and processor levels. The FTC said "growing consumer resistance. . . may induce retailers to intensify price competition and curtail the promotional competition which has substantially raised retail distribution costs over the past decade."

U.S.-Russia Flights Soon

WASHINGTON (AP)—A U.S.-Soviet agreement on direct commercial air service between New York and Moscow is reported nearly ready for signing.

Sources said yesterday one question of protocol awaits clearance before the signing expected next week.

Such an agreement was ready for signing in 1961, but was dropped by President John F. Kennedy because of the Berlin crisis.

New talks began Oct. 18 in what was regarded by some as one sign of a potential easing in U. S.-Soviet relations.

Sources say virtually all technical questions concerning the 5,000-mile flights have been answered.

Powell Faces New Sentence For Contempt

NEW YORK (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, found guilty of civil contempt of court for the third time, has been sentenced to 30 days in jail and a $250 fine if he doesn't produce a financial statement for a panel of judges by next Thursday.

But the new court ruling, stemming from the Harlem Democratic congressman's refusal to pay a $164,000 libel judgment, may not subject Powell to arrest even if he ignores it.

The civil contempt warrant can be served only within New York and Powell has avoided entering the state under the similar terms of two previous rulings.

The Appellate Division, the state's second highest court, set aside a Sept. 9 decision by a State Supreme Court justice holding that Powell was innocent of wilful failure to furnish an accounting of his finances.

The litigation centers around a defamation of character judgment against Powell after he called Esther James of Harlem a "bag woman," or payoff collector for police, on a 1960 television show.

Brown Proposes Auto Repair Industry Curbs

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Gov. Brown proposed today creating a new state bureau to curb "dishonesty or gross negligence" by auto repair firms.

The governor said his plan has the backing of the Independent Garage Owners of California.

Brown proposed that the new agency be patterned after the Bureau of Electronic Repair Dealer Registration, which he said has cut down TV repair abuses.

He ordered State Consumer Counsel Helen Nelson of Mill Valley to meet with Harold J. Powers, director of the Professional and Vocational Standards Department and Daniel J. Weston, chief of the TV Repair Bureau, to draw up plans for the proposed bureau.
